Important Information for Preparing Your 2023 Income Tax Return

Before preparing your tax return, please review this important information from BNY Mellon's Pershing. This information is for use by individual U.S. taxpayers (those who file IRS Form 1040 and are investors for tax purposes and not traders or dealers in securities for whom special tax rules may apply). Your tax professional can provide further information as to federal, foreign, state and local tax reporting requirements.

MULTIPLE ACCOUNTS

We send tax statements when information is finalized by securities issuers. If information is pending from issuers, you and members of your household may receive tax statements at different times. Tax statement mailings will occur by January 31, February 15, February 29 and March 15, depending on when we have completed processing and review of all securities transactions. If you have any questions, please visit bny.mn/taxresources.

TRANSFERRED ACCOUNTS

If your account was transferred to Pershing during 2023, your Tax Information Statement only includes activity (including income accruals) during the time you conducted business with us. Your former financial organization should provide IRS Form 1099 for activity that occurred before your account was transferred.

IRS PUBLICATIONS

IRS publications can be obtained from your local IRS office by calling the IRS Forms Distribution Center at (800) TAX-FORM (800-829-3676), or visiting the IRS website at irs.gov. The following IRS publications can provide useful tax information related to reporting securities transactions:

- Publication 550 – Investment Income and Expenses
- Publication 551 – Basis of Assets
- Publication 938 – Real Estate Mortgage Investment Conduits (REMICs) Reporting Information (and Other Collateralized Debt Obligations [CDOs])
- Publication 1212 – Guide to Original Issue Discount (OID) Instruments

CORRECTIONS

Please review your Tax Information Statement. If the statement is incorrect, contact your financial organization or advisor. If necessary, the correct information will be promptly provided to the IRS, and we will mail a revised Tax Information Statement to you.

YOUR TAX INFORMATION STATEMENT IS A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE FOLLOWING IRS FORMS:

DUPLICATE TAX FORMS

If you request a duplicate Tax Information Statement, we will mail it to the address of record for your account.

Mailing Schedule: Form 1099 Tax Information Statement

By January 31, 2024, Pershing will begin mailing Form 1099 tax statements.¹ When you receive your Form 1099 depends on the holdings in your account:

PHASE ONE: JANUARY 31, 2024

Form 1099 will be mailed for accounts with holdings and income that typically do not require reclassification or additional information from issuers. Generally, this includes accounts holding stocks, bonds and options.¹

PHASE TWO: FEBRUARY 15, 2024²

Generally, this mailing includes mutual funds, certain unit investment trusts (UITs), real estate investment trusts (REITs) and certain equities that were not included in the phase one mailing.¹ If you hold positions for which issuers have not provided final 2023 tax information, or if your information is still pending review or processing, you will receive a Pending 1099 Notice (sample on page 9). This will identify the holdings impacting the mailing date of your Form 1099 and provide the anticipated mail date. If you received your Form 1099, you will not be sent this notice.

PHASE THREE: FEBRUARY 29, 2024³

Form 1099 will be mailed for the accounts for which income reclassifications were received after the February 15 mailing was prepared. Generally, this includes remaining mutual funds, REITs and certain equities.¹

PHASE FOUR: MARCH 15, 2024³

Form 1099 will be mailed for all remaining accounts, regardless of whether pending income reclassifications have been received from issuers. Generally, this includes certain complex securities, such as real estate mortgage investment conduits (REMICs), widely held fixed investment trusts (WHFITs) and some UITs.

Enrolling in electronic delivery (eDelivery) provides faster access to your tax statements. Please contact your advisor or financial organization for more information.

CORRECTED 1099 FORM WILL BE MAILED AS NEEDED

You may receive a corrected Form 1099. There are several reasons for this—for example, issuers of securities held in your account may provide updated or additional information after your Form 1099 is mailed to you. The IRS requires financial organizations to send corrected forms with revised information as it becomes available.

² Pershing's annual practice is to request and obtain an extension from the IRS to the February 15 date on which we are required to mail IRS Form 1099 (B, DIV, INT, OID and MISC).

³ Pershing's 30-day extension to the mailing requirement will accommodate these phases of the mailing.

General Information About Your Tax Information Statement

Throughout this Tax Guide, watch for this symbol to indicate changes for 2023 tax filing:

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN YOUR TAX INFORMATION STATEMENT AND ACCOUNT STATEMENT

- Tax classifications for income paid by mutual funds, REITs and UITs are reported on the Tax Information Statement after year-end based on information provided by the administrators of these companies. Their post-year-end tax classifications often differ from the classifications reported on monthly account statements.
 - If a mutual fund (regulated investment company [RIC] and exchange traded funds [ETFs] treated as RICs) or REIT declares a dividend, interest or return of principal in October, November or December payable to shareholders of record during one of those months, but actually pays the distribution during January of the next calendar year, the dividend is considered to have been received on December 31. We report the dividend in the year it was declared. These distributions are referred to as spillover dividends and will not be reported again on the following year's Tax Information Statement.
 - If a widely held fixed investment trust (WHFIT) or widely held mortgage trust (WHMT) declares an interest or return of principal in October, November or December payable to shareholders of record during one of those months but actually pays the distribution during January or February of the next calendar year, the dividend is considered to have been received on December 31. We report the distributions in the year they were declared. These distributions are referred to as spillover dividends and will not be reported again on the following calendar year's Tax Information Statement.
 - Tax Information Statements display trade activity based on trade date. Monthly account statements display trade activity on a settlement-date basis.
 - Interest income earned on real estate mortgage investment conduits (REMICs) is due by March 15. Income from REMICs is reported on an accrual basis when earned—not when paid. Consequently, there may be differences between interest income credited on account statements and income reported on the Tax Information Statement.
- When a stock is sold based on the assignment of either a put or a call option, the proceeds of that sale are adjusted by the price of the option or the option premium. The proceeds are increased by the option premium received or decreased by the option premium paid. An adjustment code (O) will be displayed next to the amount for an option premium in the Adjustments column.

WIDELY HELD FIXED INVESTMENT TRUSTS (WHFITs)

We are required to provide details for items of gross income and expenses reflected on Form 1099 for WHFITs. UITs, royalty trusts, mortgage-backed securities (MBSs) and commodity trusts are all considered WHFITs. We provide this information on an Additional Written Statement, which provides details of amounts reported on IRS Form 1099. You need this additional information to complete your tax returns. The Additional Written Statement provides details of certain income and expenses for the WHFIT and is provided only to you; it is not provided to the IRS.

Items of gross income attributable to the WHFIT for the calendar year (including redemption and trust sales proceeds, non-pro rata partial principal payments, redemption asset proceeds, sales asset proceeds and all other amounts of income attributable to selling or redeeming your interest in the WHFIT) are displayed on the Additional Written Statement. Expenses, not included in Box 6 of IRS Form 1099-DIV or Box 5 of IRS Form 1099-INT, are displayed in the Investment Expenses column of the Additional Written Statement.

ROYALTY TRUSTS

We are required to report certain additional information to you regarding royalty trusts. We provide this information on a Supplemental Information Statement. You need this additional information to complete your tax returns. Royalty trusts are considered nonmortgage widely held fixed investment trusts (NMWHFITs) for federal income tax purposes. These grantor trusts are subject to the reporting requirements for WHFITs. The trustee of your royalty trust will provide tax information in accordance with the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations governing the information reporting requirements of the trust as a WHFIT or an NMWHFIT. Links to tax information booklets for royalty trusts will be available on bny.mn/taxresources when the booklets are made available by the trusts. As information becomes available to us, subsequent to the initial Tax Information Statement phased mailing, we process this information and provide a revised Tax Information Statement.

General Information About Your Tax Information Statement (continued)

TAX STATEMENT CORRECTIONS

Tax Information Statements may be revised for any of the following reasons:

- Reclassified income
- Changed foreign tax withholding
- Adjusted income paid
- Cancelled trades or as of trades
- Updated OID rates
- Changed Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)
- Adjusted cost basis information for a covered security transaction

Note: If cost basis information is adjusted for covered securities transactions, it may result in a revised Tax Information Statement, since, typically, the 1099-B form will be updated. If cost basis information is adjusted for noncovered securities transactions, a revised tax statement will only be produced for accounts enrolled in the Tax and Year-End Statement (TYES), the premium version of our 1099 tax statement.

EXEMPT ACCOUNTS

Certain investors who hold taxable accounts are exempt from IRS Form 1099 reporting and backup withholding requirements. These accounts include, generally, all C corporation accounts and certain S corporation accounts, qualified retirement plans (QRPs), individual retirement accounts (IRAs), certain WHFITs, charitable organizations, foreign accounts, and most federal, state and local government accounts. A more complete list of exemption criteria is provided in the Instructions to IRS Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification). If your account is exempt from IRS Form 1099 reporting and you received a Tax Information Statement, contact your financial organization or advisor.

S CORPORATIONS

S corporations that have provided a Form W-9 and enter an exempt payee code on line 4 can expect to be issued a 1099-B form that only includes the reportable tax year's sale of covered securities that were acquired on or after January 1, 2011. No other 1099 information reporting will be sent for these accounts (for example, 1099-DIV, INT, OID, MISC and 1099-B representing noncovered sales). S corporations that have provided a Form W-9 and did not enter an exempt payee code on line 4 can expect to be issued a complete 1099, including all reportable income.

TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

The IRS allows filers of 1099 forms (B, DIV, INT, MISC and OID) to truncate a recipient identification number (Social Security number [SSN], Individual Taxpayer Identification Number [ITIN], Employer Identification Number [EIN] or Adoption Taxpayer Identification Number [ATIN]) on the payee statement for the reportable tax year. These identification numbers are displayed as XXX-XX-6789 on your Tax Information Statement for both mailed and electronically delivered forms.

Please check your name and truncated TIN as shown on your Tax Information Statement. If either is missing or incorrect, promptly provide an executed IRS Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) to your financial organization or advisor. To avoid backup withholding, it is important to ensure that your name and TIN are correct. If the information is not correct, or does not match the records of the IRS or Social Security Administration, then, upon notice from the IRS pursuant to its B-Notice Program, we may be required to commence backup withholding.

Frequently Asked Question

Corrections to Your TIN

Q. My child's stock was sold through a custodial account, however, the Tax Information Statement reflects my TIN. How can this be corrected?

A. You should complete a new IRS Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) and circle your child's name as the person for whom the TIN is supplied. Submit this form to your financial organization or advisor and request an account correction and a new Tax Information Statement.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX WITHHELD (BACKUP WITHHOLDING)

We are required by law to withhold 24% of federal income tax from all reportable dividends, interest and gross proceeds paid to certain U.S. persons (including trusts, partnerships and covered transactions for exempt S corporations) who fail to furnish a valid TIN or appropriate certification (IRS Form W-9). This is called backup withholding. If you are exempt from backup withholding because you are an exempt recipient (for instance, a QRP or a tax-exempt organization), furnish your financial organization or advisor with an executed IRS Form W-9 indicating the exemption. If you are exempt from backup withholding because you are a foreign person, furnish a withholding certificate, such as IRS Form W-8BEN or W-8IMY.

STATE INCOME TAX WITHHELD (BACKUP WITHHOLDING)

The following states have backup withholding requirements for accounts that incur taxable events reportable on a Form 1099:

- California. California backup withholding is applied to an account with a California legal address that is missing a W-9, SSN or TIN, or if activity has triggered an IRS B- or C-Notice. When these conditions exist, we will display the state income tax withheld on a Form 1099 with the reportable gross proceeds and reportable miscellaneous income at a rate of 7%.
- Maine. Maine backup withholding is applied to an account with a Maine legal address that is missing a W-9, SSN or TIN, or if activity has triggered an IRS B- or C-Notice. When such a condition exists, we will display the state income tax withheld on a Form 1099 with the reportable dividends, interest, gross proceeds and miscellaneous income at a rate of 5%.
- Vermont. Vermont backup withholding is applied to an account with a Vermont legal address that is either missing a W-9, SSN or TIN, or if activity has triggered an IRS B- or C-Notice. When such a condition exists, we will display the state income tax withheld on a Form 1099 with the reportable dividends, interest, gross proceeds and miscellaneous income at a rate of 7.2%.

NOMINEE RECIPIENTS

If your SSN or EIN is shown on your Tax Information Statement, and the statement includes amounts belonging to another person, you are considered a nominee recipient. You must file IRS Form 1099 for each of the other owners, showing the income allocable to each, along with IRS Form 1096 (Annual Summary and Transmittal of U.S. Information Returns) with the IRS Center in your area. You should be listed as the payer on IRS Form 1099 and as the filer on IRS Form 1096. Any other owners should be listed as the recipients on IRS Form 1099. You must furnish an IRS Form 1099 to any other owners. Spouses are not required to file a nominee report to show amounts owned by the other spouse.

PAYER

The payer for all transactions on your Tax Information Statement is Pershing LLC (TIN 13-2741729). This name and TIN should be listed wherever the payer's name is requested on an IRS form with respect to amounts reported on your Tax Information Statement.

IMPORTANCE OF REVIEWING ACCOUNT ELECTIONS FOR BONDS

For the 2023 tax year, the IRS deadline for notifying your advisor of debt instrument elections was December 31, 2023. While the IRS deadline for notifying your financial organization or advisor of your bond elections has passed, you can still update your account to reflect the proper elections you will be making with the IRS for tax year 2024. Your current account elections can be found in the Your Account Information section of your account statement. If changes are required for the 2024 tax year, contact your financial organization or advisor before December 31, 2024. Before making changes, please review the elections described below with your tax professional.

BOND ELECTION TABLE

The table below outlines cost basis bond elections and provides a brief description of each election.

ELECTIONS	DESCRIPTION
Required Amortize bond premium on nontaxable bonds in accordance with Internal Revenue Code (IRC) IRC section 171	All bond premium on tax free bonds is required to be amortized using the constant yield method to the worst call date.
Election 1—Bond Premium Amortization Amortize bond premium on taxable bonds IRC section 171(c)	The IRS default is to amortize the bond premium and calculate using a constant yield method to the maturity date.
Election 2—Market Discount Accrual Method To accrue market discount on a constant yield IRC section 1276(b)(2)	The default method accrues market discount using the constant yield method. In 2014, the default was ratable (straight line). Prior to 2014, Pershing's default was constant yield.
Election 3—Include Market Discount as Income To include accrued market discount as income annually, referred to as current inclusion election IRC section 1278(b)	The default does NOT include accrued market discount annually as income on IRS Form 1099; instead, the default recognizes the accrual upon disposal. In these cases, the accrued discount is reported on Form 1099-B for covered transactions.

- 1 Proceeds from broker and barter exchange transactions are reported on IRS Form 1099-B Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions. These transactions include sales, exchanges, covered options, redemptions, tender offers and maturities. Each transaction in this section is reported to the IRS.
- 2 Covered securities transactions will be grouped and sorted by the security CUSIP® within the following two subsections:
 - Short-Term Transactions for Which Basis Is Reported to the IRS—Report on Form 8949, Part I, with Box A checked: Covered (Box 12)
 - Long-Term Transactions for Which Basis Is Reported to the IRS—Report on Form 8949, Part II, with Box D checked: Covered (Box 12)
- 3 For the TYES, noncovered securities transactions will be grouped and sorted by the security CUSIP within the following subsections:
 - Short-Term Transactions for Which Basis Is Not Reported to the IRS—Report on Form 8949, Part I, with Box B checked: Noncovered (Box 5)
 - Long-Term Transactions for Which Basis Is Not Reported to the IRS—Report on Form 8949, Part II, with Box E checked: Noncovered (Box 5)
 - Transactions for Which Basis Is Not Reported to the IRS and for Which Short-Term or Long-Term Determination Is Unknown (to Broker)—You must determine short or long term based on your records and report on Form 8949, Part I, with Box B checked, or on Form 8949, Part II, with Box E checked, as appropriate: Noncovered (Box 5)

Note: The YTIS will display only the Transactions for Which Basis Is Not Reported to the IRS and for Which Short-Term or Long-Term Determination is Unknown (to Broker) for noncovered securities transactions.

Ordinary Income Indicator. Two asterisks () will denote when your gain or loss may be ordinary rather than capital. Please see the Instructions for Form 8949, IRS Publication 550, or IRS Publication 1212 for more details on whether there are any special rules or adjustments that might apply to your security.
- 4 NEW FOR 2023 » Quantity (Box 1a): The number of shares included in the sale or exchange for the lot reported. If fractional shares are part of the disposition, those shares will be displayed to four decimal places.
- 5 Date Acquired (Box 1b): This box represents the date you acquired the security or, for short sales, the date you opened the short sale. You may see the word Various displayed in this column if the disposition transaction includes multiple lots with various acquisition dates.
- 6 Date Sold or Disposed (Box 1c): This box shows the trade date of the sale or exchange. For short sales, the date shown is the date you closed the short sale.
- 7 Proceeds (Box 1d): Proceeds from transactions involving stocks, bonds and other debt obligations are reported in Box 1d. These amounts do not reflect net profits and are net of transaction costs (for instance, commissions and option premiums). Taxpayers generally report the gross proceeds from each transaction separately on IRS Form 8949 (Sales and Other Dispositions of Capital Assets) or see the instructions for Schedule D (Capital Gains and Losses). This box does not include proceeds from regulated futures contracts or foreign currency forward contracts. Please see the Instructions for Form 8949 for exceptions to reporting each transaction on a separate row.
- 8 Cost or Other Basis (Box 1e): This box shows the reportable cost basis which may be adjusted for a corporate action, fixed income adjustment, gifted or inherited cost basis, etc. The IRS provides a detailed description of cost or other basis reporting in the Instructions for Form 1099-B, which you can find at irs.gov. For additional information about cost basis and its use during tax preparation, please refer to IRS instructions for Schedule D and Form 8949, IRS Publication 550 (Investment Income and Expenses) and IRS Publication 551 (Basis of Assets).

Basis on Bonds: For covered bonds, Pershing reports the adjusted cost basis inclusive of amortization of bond premium, OID, acquisition premium, NQSI and the accretion of market discount depending on taxpayer election. The adjusted cost basis for a noncovered bond is calculated without consideration of your elections and may not be the same method you chose when deciding to amortize or accrete. You or your tax professional should verify the amounts that have been previously calculated to adjust the cost basis of the bond and reported throughout the life of the bond starting with the original purchase price.
- 9 Adjustments
 - D = Accrued Market Discount (Box 1f). An adjustment code (D) will be displayed next to the amount or market discount. A market discount condition exists when the purchase cost of a bond is below the adjusted issue price of an original issue discount (OID) bond or below the redemption value of a non-OID bond. You may elect to recognize market discount as income throughout the time held. If no election has been made, Pershing is required to defer this recognition of income until the time of sale.

O = Option Premium (not reportable to the IRS). An adjustment code (O) will be displayed next to the amount for an option premium within the Adjustments column. When a stock is sold based on the assignment of either a put or a call option, the proceeds of that sale are adjusted by the price of the option or the option premium. The proceeds amount is increased by the option premium received or decreased by the option premium paid. See IRS Publication 550 for more information.

W = Wash Sale Loss Disallowed (Box 1g). An adjustment code (W) will be displayed next to an amount for a disallowed wash sale loss within the Adjustments column. This loss is being reported as disallowed because the sale of the covered security has been adjusted under the broker wash sale rule. This occurs when you repurchase the identical security, as determined by CUSIP number, in the same brokerage account within the 30-day period preceding or following the date of the original loss. The wash sale loss is displayed as a positive amount as required by the IRS. For additional information about wash sales, please refer to the following: Instructions for Schedule D (and Form 8949) and IRS Publication 550 (Investment Income and Expenses [Including Capital Gains and Losses]).

Adjustment Amount: Provides the amount of nondeductible loss in a wash sale transaction or the amount of accrued market discount. For details on wash sales and market discount, see Schedule D (Form 1040) instructions and IRS Publication 550.

- 10 Realized Gain or (Loss): The realized gain or loss for the transaction may be displayed. Note that the IRS does not require the reporting of this information on the Form 1099-B. This information is only provided if you receive our premium TYES.
- 11 Short Sales: Indicated with SHORT SALE displayed in the Disposition Transaction column. (Please see page 40 for more information.)
- 12 Sale Date Total: If you have multiple lots with the same sale or exchange date, you may see a line item with Sale Date Total noted in the Disposition Transaction column. The totals provided in this line item are an aggregate of the lots listed above the total line when the security and sale or exchange date are the same. For these totals, the word Various will be displayed in the Date of Acquisition column, since the total includes multiple lots with different acquisition dates. These total amounts are included to help taxpayers complete IRS Form 8949.
- 13 Tax Lot Default Disposition Method: The default disposition method assigned to the account as of December 31, 2023, will display below the 1099-B detail section.
- 14 Proceeds—Income Tax Withholding: If federal or state income taxes were withheld from your proceeds, they will be reported and displayed in this section.

IRS Form 8949 and IRS Form 1040, Schedule D

Transactions generally must be reported separately on IRS Form 8949 and Form 1040, Schedule D, as either short term or long term, depending upon the holding period. See the instructions to Form 8949 for exceptions to reporting each transaction separately in a row. Cost basis information will be provided for covered securities transactions. These transactions should be itemized in Part I of Form 8949 for short-term transactions and in Part II of Form 8949 for long-term transactions. You should determine the cost or other basis for each transaction reflected on Form 8949 and Schedule D from your records for both covered and noncovered transactions. The sample statement on page 17 illustrates how this information is reported on your Tax Information Statement, and the sample tax form, also on page 17, illustrates how to report the information on your tax returns.

The IRS requires filers of Form 1099-B to sort the information in specific categories to assist the preparation of your tax return. The Pershing substitute 1099-B may have up to six separate sections. The following provides a summary of this important information:

- Short-term and long-term transactions are segregated in your 1099-B in a format comparable to IRS Form 8949, for dispositions of covered securities.
- Noncovered securities transactions will also be displayed separately from covered securities transactions, and Boxes 1b, 1c, 1e, 1f and 1g may be left blank.*
- The 1099-B format will simplify your process of recording or transcribing each transaction from the 1099-B to IRS Form 8949.

* If you receive our premium TYES, the date of acquisition, cost or other basis, type of gain or loss (long term or short term), and whether any loss is disallowed due to a wash sale and deferred market discount for both covered and noncovered securities transactions will be displayed when available.

BELOW IS A LIST OF THE SIX FORM 1099-B SECTIONS AND THE CORRESPONDING INFORMATION FOR FORM 8949:

Regulated Futures Contracts

We report information related to your regulated futures contracts in this section of your Tax Information Statement. While it is only necessary for you to report the aggregate profit or loss from regulated futures contracts (and foreign currency forward contracts), we are required to report aggregate profit or loss and its three components as follows:

- 1 Regulated futures contracts and foreign currency forward contracts are reported on IRS Form 1099-B.
- 2 The Profit or (Loss) Realized in 2023 subsection displays contracts settled or closed during 2023 (Box 8).
- 3 Transactions are listed in CUSIP sequence. CUSIPs are displayed below security descriptions.
- 4 The expiration date and strike price are displayed in the Expiration Date/Strike Price column.
- 5 If any transactions were subject to federal tax withholding, the amount withheld is reported in the Federal Income Tax Withheld (Box 4) column.
- 6 The Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts—12/31/2022 subsection provides the details of all contracts open at the end of 2022. Open contracts are marked to market as of December 31, 2022, to determine unrealized profit or (loss) (Box 9).
- 7 The Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts—12/31/2023 subsection provides the details of contracts open at the end of 2023. Open contracts are marked to market as of December 31, 2023, to determine unrealized profit or (loss) (Box 10).
- 8 Section 1256 Gain or Loss. Section 1256 options (non-equity) are subject to year-end mark to market adjustments with gain or loss recognition on the sale, expiration or mark at a 60% long-term rate and 40% short-term rate.
- 9 The Aggregate Profit or (Loss)—Form 1099-B (Box 11) equals the realized profit or loss adjusted for the unrealized profit or loss at December 31, 2022, and December 31, 2023. Aggregate profit or (loss) is calculated as follows:
 Profit or (Loss) Realized in 2023
 Less: Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts—12/31/2022
 Plus: Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts—12/31/2023

Foreign Currency Forward Contracts

- 10 Foreign Currency Forward Contracts—Brokers are not required to file with the IRS returns of information (on Form 1099-B) with respect to a sale of foreign currency pursuant to a market order. A market order is an order to buy or sell an investment immediately at the best available current price and does not include a forward contract. In the foreign currency market, delivery is typically made on a market order within two business days and is a nonreportable spot contract for tax purposes to distinguish it from a forward contract. A purchase or sale of foreign currency that requires delivery or settlement on a date that is more than two business days from the date of the contract, or is set at a price that is other than the current market price, should not be a market order transaction and is reportable as a forward contract. Accordingly, this section reports only foreign currency forward contract activity for 2023.
- 11 Combined Totals for Regulated Futures and Foreign Currency Forward Contracts—If you have reportable activity for both Regulated Futures and Foreign Currency Forward Contracts, you will receive combined totals for Boxes 8, 9, 10 and 11. These totals will be reported to the IRS.

Profit or (Loss) Realized in 2023—The Profit or (Loss) Realized in 2023 subsection is displayed in this section: the currency, whether the exchange was a buy or sell of foreign currency, the trade date, the settlement date, the foreign currency amount bought or sold, the trade date exchange rate to or from U.S. dollar (USD), the USD equivalent buy or sell amount, the settlement date USD exchange rate, the settlement date USD equivalent for the buy or sell and the realized profit or loss in 2023. The realized profit or loss in this section is the difference between the USD buy/sell amount (trade date) and the USD settlement date amount.

Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts—12/31/2022 and 12/31/2023—These subsections are displayed in these sections: the currency, whether the exchange was a buy or sell of foreign currency, the trade date, the settlement date, the foreign currency amount bought or sold, the trade date exchange rate to or from USD, the USD equivalent buy or sell amount, the USD exchange rate on December 31, the USD equivalent buy or sell amount on December 31 and the unrealized profit or loss. The unrealized profit or loss in these sections is the difference between the USD buy/sell amount (trade date) and the December 31 market value amount. (Please see illustration on page 18 and refer to circles 2, 6, 7 and 9.) That same information applies to Boxes 8, 9, 10 and 11 in the currency forwards section.

Collateralized Debt Obligations (CDOs), Collateralized Mortgage Obligations (CMOs) and Real Estate Mortgage Investment Conduits (REMICs)

According to federal tax law, income from the above-mentioned securities is calculated on an accrual basis, not on a cash basis. We are required to furnish additional information to taxpayers who hold these securities.

Note: We are required by the IRS to report this information to you by March 15, 2024.

- For collateralized debt obligations (CDOs) issued with OID, income is reported in the Form 1099-OID section of the Tax Information Statement. For CDOs issued without OID, income is reported in the Form 1099-INT section of the Tax Information Statement.

Additional Written Statement—CDOs (Including REMICs)

Depending on the type of CDO held in your account, accrued interest income is reported on either IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID. OID is reported on IRS Form 1099-OID.

- 1 We are required to report certain additional information to you regarding CDOs, including REMICs. We provide this on an Additional Written Statement. You need this additional information to complete your tax returns. The Additional Written Statement also provides calculations of interest income and OID, and is provided only to you, but not to the IRS.
- 2 The amount displayed in the Aggregate Amount of OID column is calculated as:

$$([\text{quantity}] \times [\text{days held}] \times [\text{daily OID}]) \div 1,000$$
For example, $([50,000] \times [30] \times [.0056711]) \div 1,000 = 8.51$.
- 3 The amount displayed in the Aggregate Amount of Accrued Interest Income column is calculated as:

$$([\text{quantity}] \times [\text{days held}] \times [\text{daily accrued interest income}]) \div 1,000$$
For example, $([50,000] \times [30] \times [.2500000]) \div 1,000 = 375.00$.

Additional Written Statement—WHFITs and WHMTs

We are required to provide details for items of gross income and expenses reflected on 1099 forms for WHFITs, including UITs, MBSs and commodity trusts, which are all considered WHFITs. A WHFIT is also considered a WHMT if substantially all of its assets include trust interests in one or more WHMTs and regular interest in one or more REMICs. We provide this information on an Additional Written Statement.

Note: This Additional Written Statement provides details of amounts reported on IRS Form 1099. You need this additional information to complete your tax returns. The Additional Written Statement provides details of certain income and expenses for WHFITs and WHMTs, and is provided to you only and not to the IRS.

- Items of gross income attributable to the WHFIT for the calendar year (including redemption and trust sale proceeds, non-pro rata partial principal payments, redemption asset proceeds, sales asset proceeds and all other amounts of income attributable to selling or redeeming your interest in the WHFIT) are displayed on the Additional Written Statement.
- Expenses not included in Box 5 of IRS Form 1099 are displayed in the Investment Expenses column of the Additional Written Statement.

Refer to the explanation of items displayed in the sample statement on the following page.

- 1 Period Principal Paid or Proceeds of Sale. This amount represents the principal distributed to record date holders or the proceeds of a sale net of accrued interest. This amount includes redemption and sale proceeds and redemption and sale asset proceeds. It also includes principal payments that completely retire a debt instrument (other than a final scheduled principal payment) and pro rata partial principal prepayments. The amount should be reported on IRS Form 8949 and Form 1040, Schedule D.
- 2 Cost/Purchase Price. This amount represents the cost of a purchase (the amount paid for the units, including broker's commissions or the fair market value of such units on the date they were distributed), net of accrued interest.
- 3 Gross Interest. This amount represents the amount of interest distributed to you and received as accrued interest on sales or paid as accrued interest on purchases.
- 4 Investment Expense. This amount represents your share of investment expenses paid by the trust.
- 5 Market Discount Fraction. This is the ratio used to compute your market discount income or premium amortization for the year. For amortization of bond premiums see IRS Form 1040, Schedule B instructions. If you claim a deduction for amortization of premiums for bonds acquired after October 22, 1986, but before January 1, 1988, the deduction is treated as interest expense and is subject to the investment interest limitations. Use IRS Form 4952, Investment Interest Expense Deduction, to compute the allowable deduction. For taxable bonds acquired after 1987, you can elect to amortize the bond premium over the life of the bond. See IRS Publication 550 for more information.
- 6 Remaining Income Adjustment. This represents the portion of your premium or discount that remains unamortized as of the start of the period. A positive amount represents additional income in the form of a market discount. A negative amount indicates a bond premium offset to interest income.
- 7 Income Adjustment. You must increase or decrease your taxable income by the amount of this premium or discount on purchases for his or her account.
- 8 Adjusted Basis Percentage. This represents the ratio of the principal distribution over the principal balance at the start of the year. You can use this ratio to determine the portion of your adjusted basis that represents return of principal. It should be used to compute gain or loss on IRS Form 8949 and Schedule D of IRS Form 1040.

Use the cost basis factor provided to allocate a portion of your cost basis in the WHFIT (what was paid for the WHFIT, less any reinvested dividend or capital gains distributions) to each sale or disposition to determine any attributable and reportable sales proceeds and realized gains or losses on Schedule D of IRS Form 1040. For commodity trusts, the cost basis factor is reflected in the Adjusted Basis Percentage column.
- 9 Original Cost Basis. This represents the amount that our records indicate or we were advised that you originally paid for the units, including broker's commissions or the fair market value of such units on the date they were distributed. This amount should be used to compute gain or loss on IRS Form 8949 and Form 1040, Schedule D.

Supplemental Information—Royalty Trusts

We are required to report certain additional information to you regarding royalty trusts. We provide this information on a Supplemental Information Statement. You need this additional information to complete your 2023 tax returns.

NOTE:

- Royalty trusts are considered NMWHFITs for federal income tax purposes. These grantor trusts are subject to the reporting requirements for WHFITs. The trustee of your royalty trust will provide tax information in accordance with the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations governing the information reporting requirements of the trust as a WHFIT and an NMWHFIT. Links to tax information booklets for royalty trusts will be available on bny.mn/taxresources when available on the trust's website.
- For NMWHFITs generating interest and dividends only, we have reported required amounts using the “simplified reporting” procedure authorized by the IRS.

Please refer to the explanations below for each item displayed on the Supplemental Information Statement.

This amount should be used to compute any gain or loss reportable on IRS Form 1040, Schedule D.

Cost Basis Information Revisions: Prior and revised information for changes to cost basis-related information will be displayed in this section. If the following cost basis-related information is revised, it will be displayed as the type of gain or loss (short term or long term), covered/noncovered, disposition transaction and acquisition date.

If cost basis information is adjusted for covered securities transactions, it may result in a revised Tax Information Statement, since typically the 1099-B form will be updated. If cost basis information is adjusted for noncovered securities transactions, a revised tax statement will typically only be produced if you receive the TYES.

Note: If you would like to receive a new statement inclusive of cost basis adjustments for noncovered transactions, contact your financial organization or advisor to request a duplicate statement. The request should be generated after the update is made to the account.

IRS Form 1099-B—Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions

IRS Form 1099-B

COVERED SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS

For covered securities transactions (identified in Box 12), the 1099-B will report the Quantity and Description (Box 1a), Date Acquired (Box 1b), Date Sold or Disposed (Box 1c), Proceeds (Box 1d), Cost or Other Basis (Box 1e), Accrued Market Discount (1f), Wash Sale Loss Disallowed Amounts (Box 1g), Short-term Gain or Loss, Long-term Gain or Loss, or Ordinary (Box 2), Federal Income Tax Withheld (Box 4) and State Tax Withholding Information (Boxes 14, 15 and 16).

NONCOVERED SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS

For noncovered securities transactions (Box 5), the 1099-B will report the Quantity and Description (Box 1a), Date Sold or Disposed (Box 1c), Proceeds (Box 1d), Federal Income Tax Withheld (Box 4) and State Tax Withholding Information (Boxes 14, 15 and 16). The following boxes are intentionally left blank and will not be reported to the IRS—date acquired, cost or other basis, short-term gain or loss, long-term gain or loss, ordinary interest income indicator, market discount or whether any loss is disallowed due to a wash sale. Also, noncovered securities transactions are grouped by the Date of Sale or Exchange, regardless of the holding period. Taxpayers are responsible for reporting cost basis and resulting gain or loss realized upon disposition of a noncovered asset.

Note: If you receive the premium TYES, the date acquired, cost or other basis, type of gain or loss, market discount or whether any loss is disallowed due to a wash sale for both covered and noncovered securities transactions will be displayed when available. Such detail for noncovered transactions is not reported to the IRS, which is disclosed within the detail and instructions sections of the 1099-B.

SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS REPORTED

Proceed amounts do not reflect net profit and are net of transaction costs (for instance, commissions and option premium adjustments). The following types of securities transactions are reported to the IRS:

- Sales
- Redemptions
- Tender offers
- Mergers for cash
- Maturities
- Some cash-in-lieu payments

- Short sales
- Commercial paper sales
- Final principal payments on bonds
- Consent fee payments
- Liquidation distributions
- Covered options transactions
- Trust sales
- Returns of principal

ADDITIONAL IMPORTANT POINTS

Sales Are Reported According to the Trade Date.

Transactions with a December trade date and a January settlement date are reported for the year in which the trade date occurred. You should generally report these transactions on your tax return for the year during which the trade date occurred.

If any proceeds were subject to federal tax withholding, the amount withheld is reported in the Federal Income Tax Withheld (Box 4) column. We report this information to the IRS on Form 1099-B. If any proceeds were subject to state tax withholding, the amount withheld is reported in the State Tax Withheld column. We report this information to the IRS on Form 1099-B.

Market Discount. A market discount condition exists when the purchase cost of a bond is below the adjusted issue price of an OID bond or below the redemption value of a non-OID bond. You may elect to recognize market discount as income throughout the time held. If no election has been made, Pershing is required to defer this recognition of income until the time of sale or redemption. The market discount amounts displayed in Box 1f represent ordinary interest income up to the instrument's accrued market discount for less complex debt instruments acquired during 2014 and forward.

Complex debt acquired since January 1, 2016, will display on the 1099-B. (See page 7 for additional information.)

Covered Options. Realized options opened from January 1, 2014, forward and closed in 2023 are reported to the IRS on the 1099-B. Realized options opened prior to 2014 and closed in 2023 are not reported to the IRS on the 1099-B and will be displayed in the Nonreportable Proceeds and Cost Basis Information section of the TYES.

SHORT SALES

Cost basis reporting rules require brokers to report short sales for the tax year the short sale is closed (or the tax year it is covered by delivery of securities to satisfy the short sale obligation). Therefore, if you sold securities short in 2023, and did not close the short sale in 2023, the short sale will not be reported in the Form 1099-B section of your 2023 Tax Information Statement. If you sold securities short in 2022 and closed the short sale in 2023, the closed short sale should be reported in the Form 1099-B section of your 2023 Tax Information Statement. If you executed a short sale with one broker and then transferred the short sale to a second broker, the second broker will be required to report the short sale when it is closed. In tax years prior to 2011, short sales were reportable for the tax year the short sale was opened (or the tax year it occurred).

Note: Pershing will not report the closing of a short sale when a delivering broker has not transferred the proceeds of a short sale or if it has not transferred the cost of the securities used to close the short sale.

The holding period of a short sale for purposes of determining whether the gain or loss on the closed short sale is short- or long-term gain or loss is based on the holding period of the securities acquired to close the short sale. For that reason, most short sales will result in short-term gain or loss as opposed to long-term gain or loss. A short sale will be denoted with the words short sale in the Disposition Transaction column of the 1099-B section of the Tax Information Statement. You should consult a tax professional or IRS Publication 550 for information on reporting proceeds from closed short sales on your tax return.

SHORT SALE EXAMPLE:

You sold 500 shares of ABC Company in 2023, of which you acquired 200 shares in 2023 (closing transaction). Pershing will report the disposition of the 200 shares on the IRS Form 1099-B under Short-Term Transactions for Which Basis Is Reported to the IRS.

FOREIGN TAX PAID

This section lists foreign tax paid, which includes foreign tax withheld from foreign source proceed events.

ADJUSTMENTS COLUMN

The following adjustment amounts are displayed within the Form 1099-B with the accompanying identifier:

D = Accrued Market Discount (Box 1f)

O = Option Premium

W = Wash Sale Loss (Box 1g)

TRANSACTION TYPE

If you held an interest in a UIT, MBS, royalty trust or commodities trust, we are required to report certain details regarding transactions for these securities on IRS Form 1099-B because these investments are considered WHFITs. IRS rules governing reporting for WHFITs require us to provide more detailed and comprehensive information that was not previously provided on Form 1099 in years prior to 2009, but does not impact the total amount of income or expenses that we report to you. Information reported to you for WHFITs on IRS Form 1099-B is generally reported by you on IRS Form 8949 and IRS Form 1040, Schedule D. These transactions are not found on your month-end statements, but are provided by the issuer for reporting purposes.

IRS FORM 8949 AND IRS FORM 1040, SCHEDULE D

Transactions should be reported separately on IRS Form 8949 and Form 1040, Schedule D, as either short term or long term, depending on the holding period. See the Instructions for Form 8949 for exceptions to reporting each transaction on a separate row. The cost basis information will be provided for covered securities transactions. These transactions should be itemized in Part I of Form 8949 for short-term transactions and in Part II of Form 8949 for long-term transactions. Taxpayers should determine the cost or other basis for each transaction reflected on Form 8949 and Schedule D from their records for noncovered transactions.

REGULATED FUTURES CONTRACTS (BROAD-BASED INDEX OPTIONS)

- Regulated futures contracts are reported to the IRS on IRS Form 1099-B.
- The Profit or (Loss) Realized in this subsection displays contracts settled or closed in this tax year on IRS Form 1099-B (Box 8).
- Transactions are listed in CUSIP sequence. CUSIPs are displayed below security descriptions.
- The expiration date and strike price are displayed in the Expiration Date/Strike Price column.
- The Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts
Prior year subsection provides the details of all contracts open at the end of the prior year. Open contracts were marked to market as of December 31 of the prior year, to determine unrealized profit or (loss). We report this information to the IRS on IRS Form 1099-B (Box 9).
- The Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts
Current year subsection provides the details of contracts open at the end of the current year. Open contracts are marked to market as of December 31 of the current year, to determine unrealized profit or (loss). We report this information to the IRS on IRS Form 1099-B (Box 10).
- The Aggregate Profit or (Loss) (Box 11) equals the Realized Profit or Loss adjusted for the Unrealized Profit or Loss on December 31, 2022, and December 31, 2023. Aggregate Profit or Loss is calculated as follows: {Profit or (Loss) Realized in 2023} – {Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts–12/31/2022} + {Unrealized Profit or (Loss) on Open Contracts–12/31/2023}.

SECTION 1256 GAIN OR LOSS

Section 1256 options (nonequity) are subject to year-end mark to market adjustments, with gain or loss recognition on the sale, expiration or mark at a 60% long-term rate and 40% short-term rate. Pershing will report the 60-40 split within the Form 1099-B.

IRS FORM 1099-B—FOREIGN CURRENCY FORWARD CONTRACTS

Brokers are not required to file with the IRS returns of information (on Forms 1099-B) with respect to a sale of foreign currency pursuant to a market order. A market order is an order to buy or sell an investment immediately at the best available current price and does not include a forward contract. In the foreign currency market, delivery is typically made on a market order within two business days and is a nonreportable spot contract for tax purposes to distinguish it from a forward contract. A purchase or sale of foreign currency which requires delivery or settlement on a date that is more than two business days from the date of the contract, or is set at a price that is other than the current market price, should not be a market order transaction and is reportable as a forward contract. Accordingly, this section reports only foreign currency forward contracts activity for 2023. (Refer to the sample on page 19.)

IRS Form 1099-DIV—Dividends and Distributions

Types of dividends and distributions reported to the IRS:

ORDINARY DIVIDENDS

- From mutual funds (including ETFs treated as RICs), REITs and UITs, as well as both U.S. and foreign corporations
- Paid on money market and bond funds
Note: Tax Information Statements include income earned on money market funds for which Pershing LLC is the payer of income. When income from money market funds is not reported on the Tax Information Statements, the fund company issues a separate IRS Form 1099
- From short-term capital gains paid by mutual funds (including tax-exempt mutual funds)
- The fair market value of the securities paid as taxable stock dividends

QUALIFIED DIVIDENDS

This section lists the portion of ordinary dividends from Box 1a that may be eligible for the 20%, 15% or 0% capital gains rate. Certain conditions apply for these reduced tax rates. You should contact a tax professional for assistance.

TOTAL CAPITAL GAIN DISTRIBUTIONS

This section lists long-term capital gain distributions paid by mutual funds and REITs. The classification of certain dividend income may be reported as Unrecaptured Section 1250 Gain, Section 1202 Gain, Collectibles (28%) Gain or Section 897 Capital Gain. The appropriate columns will reflect this income.

SECTION 897 ORDINARY DIVIDENDS

This shows the portion of the amount in Box 1a that is section 897 gain attributable to disposition of U.S. real property interests (USRPI).

SECTION 897 CAPITAL GAIN

This shows the portion of the amount in Box 2a that is section 897 gain attributable to disposition of USRPI.

Note: Boxes 2e and 2f apply only to foreign persons and entities whose income maintains its character when passed through or distributed to its direct or indirect foreign owners or beneficiaries. It is generally treated as effectively connected to a trade or business within the United States. See the instructions for your tax return.

There may be instances where the sum of the Section 1250 long-term capital gain and the newly introduced Section 897 long-term capital gain exceeded the total long-term capital gain. Similarly, there may be instances with Section 199A dividends overlapping with Section 897 dividends, and Section 199A short-term gain overlapping with Section 897 short-term gain.

An asterisk (*) will denote when your Section 897 distributions overlap with Section 1250 gain or Section 199A dividends.

OVERLAP EXAMPLE:

A long-term capital gain that is both unrecaptured Section 1250 gain (Box 2b of Form 1099-DIV) and Section 897 capital gain (Box 2f of Form 1099-DIV).

An example of this would be a $100.00 long-term capital gain payment of which $100.00 is Section 1250 gain and $100 is also Section 897 gain.

NONDIVIDEND DISTRIBUTIONS

This section lists return of capital paid by corporations, mutual funds (including ETFs treated as RICs), UITs, WHFITs and REITs.

SECTION 199A DIVIDENDS

This section lists REIT dividends that may be eligible for the 20% qualified business income deduction under section 199A.

INVESTMENT EXPENSES

Shows your share of expense of a nonpublicly offered RIC, generally a nonpublicly offered mutual fund. This amount is included in Box 1a. Your share of UIT, WHFIT and WHMT expenses is also reported as investment expenses.

FOREIGN TAX PAID

This section lists foreign tax paid, which includes foreign tax withheld from foreign source dividends.

FOREIGN SOURCE DIVIDENDS

To assist with reporting foreign income information on forms such as IRS Form 1116 and IRS Form 8938, foreign source income is summarized by country.

LIQUIDATION DISTRIBUTIONS

This section lists distributions of cash or securities paid in connection with a corporation's or a liquidating trust's complete or partial liquidation.

EXEMPT-INTEREST DIVIDENDS

This section lists exempt-interest dividends from a mutual fund or other RIC.

SPECIFIED PRIVATE ACTIVITY BOND INTEREST DIVIDENDS

This section lists exempt-interest dividends paid by a RIC on specified private activity bonds to the extent that the dividends are attributable to interest on the bonds received by the RIC, minus an allocable share of the expenses.

Important Points

- Dividend income from equities is generally reported when paid.
- You may receive a revised Tax Information Statement from Pershing if you owned one or more mutual funds (including ETFs treated as RICs), REITs, UITs or WHFITs. Each year, these companies frequently reclassify their distributions for tax purposes based on their year-end calculations. Reclassifications may be announced after initial Tax Information Statements are mailed. If we do not receive income reclassifications, the distributions will be classified as nonqualified dividends. Pershing may include two asterisks () beside income listed in the Form 1099-DIV section to indicate that we have not received information from the corresponding investment company, and there is a possibility that the Tax Information Statement will be revised.
- Spillover distributions paid by mutual funds are reported in the year in which distributions are declared and are typically paid in January of the following year.

Frequently Asked Questions

Dividends and Distributions

ERRONEOUS DIVIDEND PAYMENT

Q. I received an incorrect dividend payment from the paying agent. It was not mine, and I returned the money to you. However, the paying agent still sent an IRS Form 1099-DIV to me and will not correct it. How do I report this on my tax return?

A. To avoid a mismatch with the IRS, this transaction should be reported twice on IRS Form 1040, Schedule B. First, report the amount shown on the IRS Form 1099-DIV from the paying agent on IRS Form 1040, Schedule B, line 5. Additionally, report the amount you paid to us as a negative adjustment on IRS Form 1040, Schedule B, line 5. Title this negative adjustment Nominee Distribution. (Refer to page 6 of this guide for additional information on nominee recipients.)

NONDIVIDEND DISTRIBUTIONS

Q. Why are nondividend distributions reported on my statement?

A. We are required to report these distributions to you and to the IRS. Nondividend distributions generally reduce the cost basis of your investment. This becomes important when you dispose of your investment and need to calculate your gain or loss. However, once the cost basis of your stock has been reduced to zero, you must report subsequent nontaxable distributions as capital gains even though we report them as nontaxable.

Qualified Dividends

Q. What is a qualified dividend?

A. A qualified dividend is a dividend that is taxed at the preferential federal tax rate established by the Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003, which was enacted in May 2003. Qualified dividends are generally subject to a maximum tax rate of 20% (or 0% for taxpayers in the 10% or 15% tax brackets).

Q. Why is it important to differentiate a dividend as qualified or nonqualified?

A. It is important to distinguish a qualified dividend from other dividends because qualified dividends are subject to a lower federal tax rate than ordinary income.

Q. How do I know if my dividends are qualified dividends?

A. You can identify which dividends are eligible for qualified dividend status by examining your Tax Information Statement and IRS Form 1099-DIV, Box 1b.

You must ensure that your specific circumstances (such as the holding period requirement) allow the dividend to be reported as a qualified dividend on your tax return.

Q. How are qualified dividends reported on my Tax Information Statement?

A. Qualified dividends are reported in the Dividends and Distributions section of your Tax Information Statement, under the column titled Qualified Dividends.

Q. Are the qualified dividends on my Tax Information Statement eligible for the reduced rate?

A. Yes. The qualified dividends on your Tax Information Statement are eligible for the reduced rate. However, for you to report these dividends as qualified on your tax return, you must meet certain requirements, such as the holding period requirement (see following question). In addition, if you were short against the box on the dividend's ex-dividend date, your dividend will not be considered a qualified dividend, even though we reported it to you as a qualified dividend.

Q. What is the holding period requirement?

A. You must meet a holding period requirement to report your dividends as qualified dividends on your tax return. These are the important points to note about the holding period requirement:

- You must hold the stock for more than 60 days during the 121-day period that begins 60 days prior to a dividend's ex-dividend date.
- The ex-dividend date is the first date following the declaration of a dividend on which the purchaser of the stock is not entitled to receive the next dividend payment. The ex-dividend date is usually two days before the record date, which is the date set by the company on which an individual must own shares in order to be eligible to receive a dividend or capital gain distribution. For mutual fund shares, the ex-dividend date is usually the reinvestment date.
- When counting the number of days you held the stock, include the day you disposed the stock, but not the day you acquired it.
- The number of days you are considered to hold the stock for this purpose is reduced for each day you diminish your risk of loss by entering into certain transactions, such as options or forward contracts and short-against-the-box transactions.

See the holding period example on next page.

HOLDING PERIOD EXAMPLE:

Assume the following facts:

- July 1, 2023—You purchase 200 shares of XYZ company.
- July 9, 2023—XYZ's stock becomes ex-dividend.
- July 28, 2023—You receive a dividend from XYZ company, which we report as a qualified dividend on your Tax Information Statement.
- August 4, 2023—You sell your 200 shares of XYZ company.

In this case, the 121-day period begins on May 9, 2023, and ends on September 7, 2023. You held the shares from July 2, 2023, through August 4, 2023, a total of 34 days. (Include the date you sold the shares, but not the date you acquired them.) Since you held the stock less than 61 days, your dividend on XYZ company is not a qualified dividend, even though we reported it to you as a qualified dividend on your Tax Information Statement.

Q. Is there a different holding period for preferred stock?

A. Generally, the holding period for preferred stock is the same as stated above. However, if your preferred stock dividend is attributable to a period greater than 366 days, you must hold the stock for at least 91 days during the 181-day period that begins 90 days before the ex-dividend date. These types of dividends pay very rarely. Most likely, your preferred stock dividends would be subject to the 60-day requirement mentioned on the previous page.

Q. How does the holding period apply if I hold mutual fund shares?

A. The holding period requirement for mutual fund shares is the same as the 60-day holding period mentioned above. If you do not hold your mutual fund shares for more than 60 days, your mutual fund dividends will be nonqualified, even if we report them as qualified on your Tax Information Statement.

Q. What if I am short against the box when I receive my dividend? Will it be considered a qualified dividend?

A. If you are both long and short in the same stock on the date the stock becomes ex-dividend, the dividend you received on the long position will not be considered a qualified dividend. The Tax Code contains this rule presumably to prevent someone from taking deductions on his or her short selling expenses at ordinary rates, and then including the income at the preferential rate.

Q. Suppose I purchase an option to sell my security (a put option) and, as a result, I have diminished my risk of loss in the security that paid a dividend. Does this affect my holding period?

A. Yes. Under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), your holding period could be reduced if you enter into a transaction that diminishes your risk of loss. This is a complicated aspect of the tax law. You should consult with a tax professional if you have entered into transactions that could have diminished your risk of loss.

Q. How do qualified dividends impact my deduction for margin interest?

A. For most taxpayers, margin interest expense is considered an investment expense, and the deduction for investment expense is limited to net investment income. In figuring your net investment income for this purpose, you would normally include your interest and dividends. You should be aware that any dividend you include in net investment income will not be considered a qualified dividend eligible for the reduced federal tax rates. See IRS Form 4952 for information about including your qualified dividends as investment income.

Q. How do qualified dividends impact my foreign tax credit?

A. Your foreign tax credit is figured on IRS Form 1116. On this form, you are required to calculate your foreign tax credit limitation, which generally is:

$$\frac{\text{Foreign Income}}{\text{Total Income}} \times \text{U.S. Tax} = \text{Maximum Foreign Tax Credit Allowed}$$

In calculating your foreign income for purposes of this limitation formula, you may be required to adjust the amount of foreign qualified dividends used in computing your foreign tax credit. See the other instruction documents mentioned in the guide for IRS Form 1116 for more information.

Q. When are foreign dividends reported as qualified dividends?

A. The IRC contains special rules for dividends paid by a foreign corporation. A foreign corporation's dividends are considered qualified if the foreign corporation meets any of the following conditions:

- The corporation is incorporated in a U.S. possession.
- The corporation's stock is readily tradable on an established market in the United States, such as the New York Stock Exchange or the NASDAQ stock market. Certain other markets, such as the Pink Sheets or the NASDAQ Over-the-Counter (OTC) Bulletin Board, are not considered established markets for this purpose.
- The company is eligible for the benefits of an income tax treaty with the United States that the Treasury Department determines is satisfactory for this purpose and that contains an exchange-of-information program.

Exception for foreign investment companies: If a foreign corporation is a passive foreign investment company, its dividends will not be considered to be qualified dividends.

Q. Are dividends from mutual funds, REITs or UITs and WHFITs considered to be qualified dividends or capital gain distributions?

A. The character of dividends from mutual funds, REITs, UITs and WHFITs varies based on the underlying investments that comprise these funds. We report dividends from these sources based on information they provide to us. We will report their dividends as nonqualified when they do not provide any information to us. In this case, we may denote the income with the symbol “,” which will appear next to the description of the company in the 1099-DIV section of the Tax Information Statement. This symbol means that we have not received information needed to classify your income and you may receive a revised Tax Information Statement from us if we receive information that changes your income classification.

Q. Are dividends from money market funds or bond funds considered qualified dividends?

A. No. Dividends from money market funds and bond funds are considered nonqualified dividends. However, since distributions from bond funds may be classified as capital gain distributions, your income from a bond fund may be reclassified. Your Tax Information Statement may reflect the symbol “” next to the description of the bond fund if we have not received reclassification information from the fund.

Q. Are dividends on preferred stock considered qualified dividends?

A. There are generally no distinct rules for determining if dividends on preferred stock qualify for the reduced rates. All of the rules referred to above apply to dividends on preferred stock. However, there are two points you should note:

- In rare circumstances, the holding period requirement is 91 days, as opposed to 61 days.
- Certain preferred securities pay interest, as opposed to dividends. Although these securities may be labeled as stock, they are actually classified as debt for federal tax purposes. The income from these securities will not qualify for the reduced rates and is reported to you in the 1099-INT or 1099-OID section of your Tax Information Statement. These securities are listed under various names, such as fixed-rate capital securities (also referred to as MIPs, QUIDs, QUIPs and TOPrS).

Q. Where can I get more information about qualified dividends?

A. IRS Publication 550, Investment Income and Expenses, contains useful information on reporting dividend income and is available at irs.gov or by calling the IRS Forms Distribution Center at (800) TAX-FORM (800-829-3676).

IRS Form 1099-INT—Interest Income

Interest income is reported on IRS Form 1099-INT. Details are displayed on Tax Information Statements to provide you with transaction-level information. Transactions for each security are listed in CUSIP sequence and classified by security type. The following types of interest income and tax items are reported to the IRS:

INTEREST INCOME

- Interest income from U.S. corporate bonds, taxable municipal bonds and certain REMIC or CDO interest
- Interest income from U.S. government agencies (for instance, the Government National Mortgage Association and Federal National Mortgage Association)
- Interest income from foreign bonds
- Credit interest income (total of credit interest earned on cash balances)
- Interest on short-term discount obligations

INTEREST ON U.S. SAVINGS BONDS AND TREASURY OBLIGATIONS

- U.S. Treasury bill maturities
- Coupon payments from U.S. Treasury notes and bonds

INVESTMENT EXPENSES

- For single-class REMICs only
- Your share of WHFIT and WHMT expenses is also reported in this box (Box 5)

FOREIGN TAX PAID

Foreign tax withheld (paid) from foreign source interest income was credited to your account in the reportable tax year.

FOREIGN SOURCE INCOME

To assist with reporting foreign income information on forms such as IRS Form 1116 and IRS Form 8938, foreign source income is summarized by country.

MARKET DISCOUNT

- If you elected to include accrued market discount as income annually, the amount for both covered and noncovered bonds will be displayed
- Only covered market discount will be reported to the IRS

BOND PREMIUM (INTEREST OFFSET)

- If you have not elected out of the IRS default to amortize bond premium annually, Pershing is required to amortize your taxable premium each year and apply this premium as a reduction to taxable interest income
- Corresponding cost basis on lots will also be adjusted for the amortization
- Only covered bond premium will be reported to the IRS
- Tax-exempt bonds must be amortized regardless of your election
- Bond Premium on Treasury obligations (Interest Offset) is displayed in Box 12

IMPORTANT POINTS

- Exempt-interest dividends from a mutual fund or other RIC are no longer reported on Form 1099-INT. Those amounts are reported on Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions.
- Interest income from short-term instruments such as U.S. Treasury bills and short-term government agency products redeemed through Pershing is reported on IRS Form 1099-INT. If the short-term instrument was not purchased through Pershing, or if the purchase price was not made available to us in the cost basis system, we use the rate shown in IRS Publication 1212 (this rate is an estimated amount). You may need to adjust the reported amount in this situation.
- Accrued interest income received on bonds and notes is reported on a settlement-date basis. Amounts representing accrued interest sold are identified with the symbol “*” on your statements. Accrued interest purchased between interest payment dates is not included on IRS Form 1099-INT. We report accrued interest purchased in the Securities Purchased section of the tax statement. You may need to adjust interest income for accrued interest purchased.

IRS Form 1099-INT—Interest Income (continued)

- Interest income earned by certain UITs is also reported on IRS Form 1099-INT. If the UIT is organized as a grantor trust and earned interest income, your share of the UIT's interest income is reported in this section.
- Separate subtotals are reported in three categories for interest earned (if applicable): U.S. corporations, foreign corporations, U.S. government agencies and tax-exempt interest from tax-exempt bonds, mutual funds, UITs, WHFITs and WHMTs.
- The Acquisition Date and Original Cost Basis are displayed.
- For transactions with market discount or bond premium, the adjusted cost basis for the Period Begin Date and Period End Date is displayed.

RETURN OF PRINCIPAL AND NONQUALIFIED STATED INTEREST

Generally, a return of principal distribution on a bond is not reportable as taxable, but the distribution reduces the tax basis of your bond. Nonqualified stated interest reflects periodic payments on contingent debt securities. If the nonqualified interest paid was greater than the amount projected by the issuer, the excess will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT.

Special Message for Owners of Mutual Funds, UITs, WHFITs, WHMTs and REITs

Your Tax Information Statement may display the following message if we have not received final reallocation information by the completion of the phased mailing:

Income and dividends declared on these investments in October, November or December 2023 are considered received on December 31, 2023, even if the income and dividends were not actually paid until January (in the case of RICs or mutual funds and REITs) or February (in the case of WHFITs and WHMTs) 2024. Accordingly, these amounts are reported on your 2023 Form 1099.

Supplemental information regarding the percentages of tax-exempt income on municipal bond funds by state and the percentage of government agency, direct federal and foreign source income for funds will be available by March 1, 2024, via bny.mn/taxresources.com.

IRS Form 1099-OID—Original Issue Discount (OID)

OID is the difference between the stated redemption price at maturity and the issue price of a bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness.

OID AND TAX-EXEMPT OID

A combined OID and Tax-Exempt OID Total section will display in the event you have both reportable OID and reportable Tax-Exempt OID.

- Only covered bond premium will be reported to the IRS.
- Tax-exempt bonds must be amortized regardless of your election.

REPORTED OID TRANSACTIONS

- We report OID on corporate bonds, certificates of deposit, CDOs, CMOs, U.S. government obligations and separate trading of registered interest and principal of securities (STRIPS) obligations.
- We report other periodic interest on obligations for the year, which is an amount separate from the OID.

TAX-EXEMPT OID

OID for covered Tax-Exempt OID Bonds are reportable on Form 1099-OID. In addition, Market Discount, Acquisition Premium and Bond Premium for covered bonds are also reportable to the IRS.

Note: Tax-Exempt OID for specified private activity bonds is displayed on the Summary of Form 1099-OID and statement detail as Tax-Exempt OID for Specified Private Activity Bonds.

Note: Tax-Exempt OID is reported for covered bonds in Box 11 on Form 1099-OID.

MARKET DISCOUNT

For a covered security, if you made an election under section 1278(b) to include market discount in income as it accrues and you notified your payer of the election, this box shows the market discount that accrued on the debt instrument during the year while held by you. Report this amount on your income tax return as directed in the instructions for Form 1040 or 1040A.

- The market discount will be displayed for both covered and noncovered transactions.
- Only covered transactions will be reported to the IRS.

ACQUISITION PREMIUM

- This is the amount of acquisition premium amortization for the year that reduces the amount of OID included as interest on your income tax return.
- If an amount is reported in this box, see the instructions for Form 1040 (Schedule B).
- If an amount is not reported in this box for a covered security acquired with acquisition premium, then a net amount of OID reflects the offset of OID included in income.

BOND PREMIUM (INTEREST OFFSET)

- If you have not elected out of the IRS default to amortize bond premium annually, Pershing is required to amortize your taxable premium each year and apply this premium as a reduction to taxable interest income.
- Corresponding cost basis on lots will also be adjusted for the amortization.

Important Points

- You may be required to report a portion of this income even though cash payments were not received.
- Transactions are reported to the IRS on a security-level basis.
- You may be required to recalculate OID if an acquisition premium was paid or if Pershing reported an estimated amount based on IRS Publication 1212. We now denote if we used IRS Publication 1212.
- If an OID instrument was transferred during the tax year into an account at Pershing, the OID for the period held at Pershing during 2023 is reported. You should obtain another IRS Form 1099-OID from your prior firm, which shows remaining OID portions to be reported.
- If a company is in Chapter 11 or has declared bankruptcy, Pershing may still be required to report OID income.

IRS Form 1099-MISC—Miscellaneous Information

Information reported on IRS Form 1099-MISC.

RENTS

Box 1 of Form 1099-MISC reflects rental income that you earned from real estate activities, royalty trusts and any surface royalties generated from strip mining or other activities. This amount should be reported on IRS Form 1040, Schedule E. Please consult your tax professional to determine the proper treatment of this income.

ROYALTIES

The amounts in this section show income earned from royalty trusts.

SUBSTITUTE PAYMENTS IN LIEU OF DIVIDENDS AND INTEREST

The amounts in this section reflect substitute payments in lieu of dividends or interest credited during 2023. These amounts were allocated to an account pursuant to IRS regulations and represent amounts that were credited as a result of a transfer of securities for use in a short sale.

Pershing is authorized to loan your shares for use in a short sale when the shares are held in a margin account with an outstanding margin debt. You should report substitute payments as other income for tax purposes. We report the substitute payment in the 1099-MISC section of the Tax Information Statement.

OTHER INCOME

The amounts in this section show other income, such as substitute payment reimbursements. Report this as other income for tax purposes.

Important Points

- Positions are held in a margin account.
- The dividend amount originally recorded is reduced by the substitute payment amount.
- Substitute payments are generally the only reporting that is done for corporations and exempt payee accounts. (For 2023, the same tax reporting rules generally apply to C and S corporations.)
- Substitute payments are not considered qualified dividends.
- Supplemental information for royalty trusts will be provided by March 1, 2024.
- A tax booklet will be available online to taxpayers who hold royalty trusts separately from their Tax Information Statements.

Transactions Pershing Does Not Report to the IRS

We do not report the following categories of information to the IRS: nonreportable distributions, equity option transactions, margin interest expense and securities purchased with accrued interest paid. These items, however, are displayed on Tax Information Statements to help you prepare your tax returns.

NON-REPORTABLE PROCEEDS AND COST BASIS INFORMATION

Fixed Income

Sales, maturities and redemptions for short-term discount debt instruments like U.S. Treasury bills, commercial paper and government agencies are displayed in this section. The discount on Treasury bills maturing during 2023 is reported in the 1099-INT section. Refer to the 1099-INT section of these instructions for additional information reported for these types of instruments.

Currency Transactions

Exchanges of foreign currency for USD and exchanges of foreign currency for a different foreign currency are displayed in this section. If the exchange is a forward contract, information related to that exchange is reported on Form 1099-B. That information is different than the transactional information provided in this section, as proscribed by the IRS. If you have reportable forward contracts, they are reported in the 1099-B section titled Foreign Currency Forward Contracts. Please see that section and the instructions that follow it for more information.

Equity Option Transactions

If you traded or held an equity option(s) during 2023, we may display certain activities (for example, sales, purchases and expirations) related to those options in this section of the Tax Information Statement. This data is provided to you for informational purposes only.

Note: Covered realized options opened from January 1, 2014, forward and closed in 2023 are reported to the IRS on the 1099-B form.

Important Points

- Accrued interest received on municipal notes and bonds that are sold between interest payment dates is reported on a settlement-date basis and is included in the tax-exempt interest income category. Amounts representing accrued interest sold are identified with the symbol “*” on your statements. It may be necessary to reduce the amount of the tax-exempt interest income category by the amount of accrued interest purchased.
- If municipal bonds issued with OID were transferred to Pershing during 2023, we only calculate OID for the period during which the instruments were held at Pershing.

NON-REPORTABLE DISTRIBUTIONS

Deemed Worthless Securities and Customer Deemed Insignificant Value

There is no reporting requirement to report these transactions to the IRS. This activity will be displayed in the non-reportable proceeds section for Tax Year-End Statements only.

PARTNERSHIP CASH DISTRIBUTIONS

Taxpayers who hold limited partnership interests are sent an IRS Schedule K-1 directly from the partnership, even though the position is held in street name at Pershing. Pershing is required by law to provide partner information directly to the partnerships.

You should contact the partnership’s administrator if you do not receive IRS Schedule K-1 (K-1 forms are not required to be issued until April 15, 2024, unless extended).

Transactions Pershing Does Not Report to the IRS (continued)

SHORTFALLS

This section will display payment shortfalls for contingent debt securities. If the payment announced by the issuer is less than the amount projected by the issuer, the difference is reflected as a shortfall.

RETURN OF PRINCIPAL DISTRIBUTIONS AND NONQUALIFIED STATED INTEREST

Generally, returns of principal distributions are not reportable as taxable income, but the distributions reduce your tax basis. You should consult a tax professional for more detailed information. Nonqualified stated interest reflects periodic payments on contingent debt securities. If the nonqualified interest paid was greater than the amount projected by the issuer, the excess will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT.

ADVISORY FEES AND OTHER EXPENSES

This optional feature displays certain advisory fees and other expenses charged during 2023.

FOREIGN TAX REFUNDS

The non-reportable transaction section displays any previous year foreign tax refunds received during the tax year. Please consult your tax professional for possible amendments to prior year filings.

EQUITY OPTIONS TRANSACTIONS

Equity options transactions include activities related to sales, purchases, exercises, assignments and expirations of noncovered equity options.

Note: This section will only be displayed for accounts receiving the YTIS.

SECURITIES PURCHASED WITH ACCRUED INTEREST PAID

This section includes bonds purchased with accrued interest paid.

Reclassified Income

It may be necessary to reclassify previously reported distributions to another category, since the tax status of payments made by corporations, mutual funds, UITs, WHFITs and REITs can only be determined after the end of the tax year.

Some of these companies, funds and trusts may not furnish their classifications before we mail Tax Information Statements. As a result, we may issue revised Tax Information Statements to you if you received distributions from one or more of these companies, if the information is received after initial tax statements are mailed.

Typically, reclassifications involve the following categories:

- Ordinary dividends*
- Qualified dividends*
- Capital gain distributions*
 - Unrecaptured Section 1250 Gain*
 - Section 1202 Gain*
 - Collectibles (28%) Gain*
- Nondividend distributions*
- Liquidation distributions*
- Tax-exempt income from specified private activity bonds
- Tax-exempt interest

* Refer to pages 42 and 43

UIT AND WHFIT REPORTING

Income from UITs and WHFITs will be reported based on information from the trust administrators. This is necessary to distinguish the various types of income that a UIT and WHFIT could generate, such as interest income, tax-exempt income, income from specified private activity bonds, qualified dividend income, nonqualified dividend income or OID. If you own UITs and WHFITs, you will see the following information on your Tax Information Statements:

- Income Classification: Income from UITs and WHFITs will be reported in one or more of the Form 1099-DIV, 1099-INT or OID sections of the Tax Information Statement, depending on the nature of the income.
- Accrual-Based Reporting: Income will be reported on the Tax Information Statement as it is earned by the UITs and WHFITs, which may differ from the date the UIT and WHFIT distribute the income. In the 1099-DIV and 1099-INT sections, separate entries will be displayed for income that is received in cash and for accrued income.
- Additional Data: Tax Information Statements will show Investment Expenses and Foreign Tax Paid as separate categories when the UIT and WHFIT administrator includes this data in the information provided to us.

IRS Form 1042-S—Foreign Person’s U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding

Federal tax law requires separate reporting of certain U.S. source transactions when an account holder is a non-U.S. (foreign) individual or entity. Foreign account holders are generally not subject to IRS Form 1099 information reporting and backup withholding. However, these account holders are subject to IRS Form 1042-S reporting.

The 2023 1042-S will continue to include Copy B and Copy C (for recipient) of the IRS version of Form 1042-S. Copy C will be a duplicate of the Copy B version of the form, which is already included. The Copy C version of the form can be attached to any federal tax return you may file and the Copy B version of the form can simply be retained for your records. The 1042-S Copy B and Copy C form(s) displays the income and tax withholding totals reflected for each applicable income, withholding exemption and chapter status code. To help you easily navigate, your tax package will contain a Table of Contents section, a Summary Totals section (which provides all of your reportable income and withholding totals by their applicable exemption and Chapter 3/Chapter 4 status code[s]), a Transaction Details section (which contains a listing of all the reportable information that make up the totals provided in the Summary Totals section) and IRS Form 1042-S Copy B and Copy C.

NEW FOR 2023 » The Form 1042-S for 2023 has been modified to accommodate reporting of payments for and amounts withheld under section 1446(f) and 1446(a). The section 1446(f) regulations include reporting and withholding requirements that apply to brokers effecting transfers of interests in publicly traded partnerships (PTPs). Please note the updates below:

- Income Code 57—Amount realized under IRC section 1446(f): This code was added for brokers to report amounts realized and the associated withholding on transfers of PTP interests.
- Income Code 58—PTP distributions - underdetermined: This code was added for nominees when they are unable to determine the characterization of income associated with a PTP distribution and therefore withhold on the distribution in the absence of a qualified notice specifying the income attributable to the distribution.

- Chapter 3 Status Code 38—Applies to payments to or from a PTP making a distribution.
- Boxes 16a through 16e have been updated to display the PTP’s distributions information only when using income code 27, 57 and 58.

The 2023 Chapter 3 NRA tax withholding, originally withheld during the calendar year, but reversed between January 1, 2024, and January 31, 2024, will continue to appear in Box 9 (over-withheld tax repaid) on the 1042-S. Box 7a (Federal Tax withheld) of the 1042-S will provide the total withholding applied. This total withholding amount will then be reduced by the amount in Box 9, and the difference between the two will display as the total tax withholding credited in Box 10.

The 1042-S Box 9 values will display in the transaction details section and the Copy B and Copy C of the Form 1042-S provided in your tax package. It is important to note that Box 9 (over withheld tax repaid) will not be populated for any amounts related to Chapter 4 FATCA tax withholding. The Chapter 4 FATCA tax withholding deadline is December 29, 2023, therefore Chapter 4 FATCA withholding will not be reversed after the start of the new calendar year.

Your tax package may also include a 1042-S Reclassification section if your account received Chapter 3 reportable income distributions that were reclassified by the issuer after year-end. If the issuer reclassification results in a tax refund, the amount of the refund will also be included in Box 9 in the transactions details section, as well as on Copy B and Copy C of IRS Form 1042-S.

IRS Form 1042-S—Foreign Person’s U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding (continued)

As in previous tax years, we will continue to round the income and withholding totals reported in the 1042-S summary section (Foreign Person’s U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding) and on the Copy B and Copy C (IRS version of the form). As we must round off cents to whole dollars and display the bulk total amounts in accordance with IRS rules and regulations. To round off amounts to the nearest whole dollar, amounts fewer than 50 cents will be dropped and amounts from 50 to 99 cents will be increased to the next dollar. For example, $1.39 becomes $1 and $2.50 becomes $3. For the 2023 tax year, the 1042-S transaction detail section and the 1042-S reclassification section will continue to display the actual credited amount, including cents. Only the 1042-S summary page and the amounts that post to the 1042-S Copy B and Copy C (IRS version of the form) will be rounded to whole dollars, essentially only rounding the totals in the sections where we display the bulk total amounts. This rounding exercise streamlines your reporting so that it matches exactly with the rounded income and withholding amounts that are filed with the IRS.

Important Points

- March 15, 2024, is the due date for mailing IRS Form 1042-S statements.
- Dividends from certain money market funds are reported on IRS Form 1042-S. You will receive a separate IRS Form 1042-S directly from the money market fund if Pershing did not handle the processing of the fund for the entire year.
- An Income Reclassification section displays before and after information if income was reclassified from how it was initially paid. If the issuer reclassification results in a tax refund, the amount of the refund will display in the Refunded Amount Column within the reclassification section of the 1042S. Note that only taxpayers who are subject to reporting under Chapter 3 of the Internal Revenue Code will qualify to participate in our year-end reclassification process. Accounts that are deemed recalcitrant and therefore subject to withholding and reporting under Chapter 4 of the Internal Revenue Code under the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) will not qualify to participate in our reclassification process. You will receive any tax refunds prior to the mailing of the 2023 1042-S year-end tax statements. A Revision section will display if there are any adjustments made to the income or withholding amounts after the initial 1042-S mailing.

Note: This section will be displayed as the initial pages of your Form 1042-S Tax Information Statement if you have Chapter 3 income reported on this form that was reclassified.

RECLASSIFIED INCOME

It may be necessary to reclassify previously reported distributions to another category, since the tax status of payments made by corporations, mutual funds and certain issuers can only be determined after the end of the tax year. Your Tax Reporting Information may contain income that was reclassified, based on issuer information captured up to February 17. After this date, any reclassification of income by issuers will not be reported on Your Tax Reporting Information statement and will only be revised upon request and if the information does not cause initial reporting, after the filing date of February 28. Requests for amendments based on reclassifications should be sent via Service Center Request for processing.

IRS Form 2439—Notice To Shareholder of Undistributed Long-Term Capital Gains

Certain regulated investment companies (RICs) elect to pay federal income tax on undistributed long-term capital gains. If you hold RICs as of year-end, you may receive IRS Form 2439. This form reports your shares of undistributed capital gains and the federal tax paid by RICs. A separate Form 2439 will be issued for each investment. Taxpayers holding positions in these RICs (as of the fiscal year end of the RIC) should receive IRS Form 2439 for those holdings.

Note that some RICs do not have calendar fiscal years, so it is best to consult the website of the investment. You may also consult a tax professional for specific guidance in the area of reporting the capital gain in their income and their entitlement to claim a credit on their income tax returns for their shares of the federal tax paid by the RICs issuing Form 2439.

IMPORTANT NOTES

The Depository Trust and Clearing Corporation (DTCC) provides Pershing with information for IRS Form 2439 reporting.

- IRS Form 2439 information is not included on the Tax Information Statement provided by Pershing.
- The date on which IRS Form 2439 is mailed varies depending on the RIC's year-end for tax purposes. Nonetheless, these forms will be issued within 60 days following the fiscal year-end of the RIC.
- For IRAs and other retirement accounts for which Pershing is the retirement account custodian, Pershing will claim the collective tax credit for the tax paid by RICs issuing Form 2439s and, once reimbursed by the IRS, will credit respective IRAs and other retirement accounts accordingly.
- Although Pershing may receive the rates used to calculate items on IRS Form 2439 from our vendor, we cannot mail IRS Form 2439 to you until we receive copies from the DTCC, showing the amount of the RIC's long-term capital gain paid to Pershing and the amount of tax paid by the RIC.

Pershing uses a replica of the IRS Form 2439. You will receive Copy B and Copy C to attach to your income tax return and to keep for your records, respectively. The IRS Form 2439 Copy B is shown below.

- The penalty for failing to take an RMD decreased to 25% of the RMD amount, which was previously 50%, and 10% if corrected in a timely manner for IRAs.

General Information for Your 2023 Retirement Products

PAYER

Pershing LLC is the payer of income reported on IRS Forms 1099-R and 1099-Q for those accounts where Pershing is the custodian or servicing agent for other custodians.

PAYER'S TIN

Pershing's TIN for 1099-R and 1099-Q reporting is 13-3718556. Pershing's TIN for 5498 and 5498-ESA reporting is 13-2741729.

Note: For 5498 and 5498-ESA reporting, if you have a custodian other than Pershing, that custodian's TIN will be used for reporting.

MINIMUM DISTRIBUTION AMOUNTS

In accordance with regulatory requirements, Pershing will issue an IRS Form 1099-R to report all distributions of $10 or more from IRAs, qualified retirement plans and 403(b)(7) custodial accounts to the IRS.

ACCOUNTS OPENED IN 2023

Tax forms will include tax reporting activity for the 2023 tax year. If you joined Pershing after January 1, 2023, you may receive tax forms from Pershing and the previous payer. Questions regarding tax forms should be directed to the appropriate payer.

QUALIFIED RETIREMENT PLAN

Qualified retirement plan omnibus accounts pool assets for multiple employees of the same employer. Generally, these accounts bear the name and TIN of the employer. Pershing does not issue IRS Form 1099-R to participants for distributions that occur from omnibus accounts. Instead, these forms are issued by the plan trustee(s).

FAIR MARKET VALUE

IRA owners will receive their December 31, 2023, fair market value report as part of their December 2023 account statement.

COVERDELL EDUCATION SAVINGS ACCOUNT (ESA)

Coverdell ESA contributions will be reported on IRS Form 5498-ESA, Coverdell ESA Contribution Information. Coverdell ESA distributions will be reported on IRS Form 1099-Q, Payments from Qualified Education Programs (under Sections 529 and 530).

Direct transfers into a Coverdell ESA will be reported in Box 2 (Rollover Contributions) of IRS Form 5498-ESA. The transfer amounts will be included with any rollover contributions. Direct transfers have historically been nonreportable. As a result, the amount reported in Box 2 may be different than the rollover contribution amount reported on the account statement or in IRAS.

IRS Form 5498-ESA will be mailed by May 31, 2024, instead of April 30, as a result of Pershing filing for an extension with the IRS. The additional time is needed to accommodate contributions for 2023 that can be made as late as April 15, 2024.

DISPLAY OF FAIR MARKET VALUE INFORMATION ON RETIREMENT ACCOUNT STATEMENTS

The IRS requires filers of Form 5498 to provide the December 31, 2023, IRA Fair Market Value to participants by January 31, 2024. This information is reported to the IRS as part of Form 5498 filing, which has a deadline of May 31 following the tax year with the IRS. Enhanced descriptions relating to fair market value fields were implemented in the Your Account Information section of December 2023 retirement account statements for participants who hold IRAs where Pershing functions as either the custodian or servicing agent.

For 2023, Pershing provided the fair market value, as of December 31, 2023, as part of the December statement. December 2023 is a quarter-end statement and is sent to all open retirement accounts, regardless of activity.

VALUATION OF IN-KIND DISTRIBUTIONS AND ROLLOVER CONTRIBUTIONS

When an In-Kind Distribution is initiated in Asset Movement, the valuation is captured as of the prior business day's closing price. The previous close price is provided upon selection as well as the total gross distribution prior to submission. When the federal and state tax elections are selected, the Market Value of the securities is calculated based on quotes as of the previous close.

The valuation of a rollover deposit will capture the prior business day's closing price of the security.

IRS Form 1099-R

Generally, per IRS instructions, distributions from pensions, annuities, profit-sharing and retirement plans (including section 457 state and local government plans), IRAs, insurance contracts, etc., are reported to recipients on Form 1099-R.

- IRAs. For distributions from a traditional individual retirement arrangement (IRA), simplified employee pension (SEP) or Savings Incentive Match Plans for Employees (SIMPLE), generally the payer is not required to compute the taxable amount. See the Form 1040 instructions to determine the taxable amount. If you are at least age 73, you must take minimum distributions from your IRA (other than a Roth IRA). If you do not, you may be subject to a 25% excise tax on the amount that should have been distributed. See IRS Publication 590 for more information on IRAs.
- Recipient's Identification Number. For your protection, this form may show only the last four digits of your SSN, ITIN, ATIN or EIN. However, the issuer has reported your complete identification number to the IRS.

For more information, please see the instructions for Form 1099-R at irs.gov.

Note: For corrected forms, Corrected as of MM/DD/YYYY will be displayed in the upper-right corner of the form, directly below 2023 Retirement Account Tax Information Statement. The date will be the day the process was run to generate the corrected form. The following additional note will appear at the bottom of the note section: "This form contains revised information to correct reporting previously provided for your account for tax year 2023."

529 Plans

A 529 plan is a qualified tuition program and account arrangement that is described in Section 529 of the IRC.

The type of 529 plan account custodied by Pershing is a savings plan where the account owner (participant) contributes for the benefit of an eligible college-bound individual (beneficiary). The plan and account earnings generally accumulate tax-free as long as the contributions and earnings remain in the plan and are ultimately used to pay qualifying educational expenses. Qualified plan and account distributions generally are received free from federal income tax and state income tax in certain states and may include expenses for tuition, books, supplies, room and board at any accredited post-secondary educational institution. 529 plans are offered by states with varying rules dictated by state legislation and are typically, but not always, administered by a single investment (mutual fund) management company directly and offered by that investment management company or by licensed securities brokers.

For 2023, Pershing is required to report distributions from 529 plans on IRS Form 1099-Q (Payments From Qualified Education Programs [Under Sections 529 and 530]). The Form 1099-Q will be mailed to recipients by January 31, 2024. (Please refer to the image on the next page to view the 2023 Form 1099-Q.) Pershing expects to report the information included on recipients' copies of Form 1099-Q to the IRS by April 30, 2024.

For 2023, the Form 1099-Q will be issued under the applicable State 529 Plan's Federal or EIN as the payer of the income. The Form 1099-Q reports all distributions in their component parts, which includes the amount of the Gross Distribution (Box 1) and the portions of the Gross Distribution that consist of Earnings (Box 2) and Basis (Box 3)—see the next page for a further explanation of the Form 1099-Q boxes. Losses or negative earnings are only reported if the 529 plan account was closed by December 31, 2023. If a 529 plan account has a loss or negative earnings on a distribution made in 2023, but the account was not closed by year-end 2023, zero earnings will be reported and the amounts of basis and gross distribution reported will be equal to each other. If a participant/beneficiary has accounts with multiple 529 plan providers (other custody firms or directly with the sponsoring state or fund), all 529 plan accounts must be closed before any losses or negative earnings may be reported. In this case, Pershing will continue to receive the external basis and market value information from the master aggregator for the 529 plan. This means there are still open accounts for the participant/beneficiary. Therefore, Pershing will not report losses or negative earnings.

This important tax information and is being furnished to the Internal Revenue Service. If you are required to file a return, a negligence penalty or other sanction may be imposed on you if this income is taxable and the IRS determines that it has not been reported. The above represents a summary of your education account distribution activity for Tax Year 2023. The Internal Revenue Service instructions are on the back of this page.

REFER TO THE SAMPLE FORM ABOVE FOR DETAILED INFORMATION ON THE SECTIONS.

- 1 The amount reported in Box 1 shows the gross distribution paid. The gross distribution from the 529 plan causes the generation of a Form 1099-Q. The amount of the gross distribution is the total amount of the redemptions (sale trades) processed directly from the 529 plan. The check disbursement from the client account is not the reportable event.
- 2 The amount reported in Box 2 shows the gross distribution less any amount used to pay for qualified education expenses, transfers to another trustee or rolled to another qualified education program in 60 days.
- 3 The amount reported in Box 3 shows the basis in the gross distribution paid in Box 1. The basis is the total amount contributed to the 529 plan. The amount reported in Box 3 will equal the amount reported in Box 1 minus the amount reported in Box 2.
- 4 If Box 4 is checked, then a distribution has been made directly from one Qualified Tuition Program to another Qualified Tuition Program.
- 5 All 2023 Forms 1099-Q issued by Pershing will report the State Qualified Tuition Program.
- 6 Box 6 will be checked if the recipient of the distribution is not the designated beneficiary under the Qualified Tuition Program.

Please see IRS Publication 970 (Tax Benefits for Education) for additional information.

This information is being furnished to the Internal Revenue Service. The above represents a summary of your retirement account distribution activity for Tax Year 2023. The Internal Revenue Service instructions are on the back of this page.

- 1 Gross Distributions. Box 1 displays the gross distribution taken from your retirement account. Note that you may receive more than one IRS Form 1099-R.
- 2 Taxable Amount. Box 2a displays the taxable amount of distributions taken from your retirement account. In the Instructions to Form 1099-R, the IRS generally stipulates that the taxable amount reported in Box 2a be the same amount reported in Box 1 for Traditional, SEP and SIMPLE IRAs.
- 3 Taxable Amount Not Determined. The “Taxable Amount Not Determined” box is either blank or populated with an “X.” In most cases, particularly for distributions from IRAs, the IRS instructions call for the payer to populate the box with an “X.” You should consult with a tax professional to determine the actual taxable amount of your distributions.
- 4 Distribution Codes. You may owe additional tax on the amount distributed to you. An example of this would be if you took a distribution from your IRA and you are under age 59½ and no exceptions apply (for example, first-time home purchase). In certain cases where no exception applies, you may owe additional taxes. See IRS Form 5329 for the calculation of additional tax on early distributions.

Foreign Distribution Tax Treatment

FOREIGN DISTRIBUTIONS: DEFINITION AND BASIC CONDITIONS

A foreign distribution, for these purposes, is defined as a taxable amount distributed from a retirement account that is disbursed either outside of the United States or within the United States to a nonresident alien. There are specific requirements regarding tax treatment for foreign distributions.

There are three basic conditions:

1. If funds are distributed outside of the United States or its possessions to a U.S. person, a minimum of 10% federal tax must be withheld from the gross distribution amount.
2. If funds are distributed to a nonresident alien or foreign estate and the account is not documented with a W-8BEN, 30% nonresident alien tax must be withheld from the gross distribution amount.
3. If funds are distributed to a nonresident alien or foreign estate and the account is documented with a W-8BEN, 30% nonresident alien tax, or a reduced rate based upon validly-claimed treaty benefits, must be withheld from the gross distribution amount.

FOREIGN DISTRIBUTION TAX TREATMENT GRIDS

To provide a more specific understanding of how Pershing will determine tax for foreign distributions, refer to the two grids that follow. Each grid has three lines, one for each possible scenario.

Grid #1 details how Pershing handles documented accounts (accounts with a valid IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS W-9 on file).

- Documented Account—Scenario #1 (Nonresident Alien or Foreign Estate): A foreign distribution is taken and a valid W-8BEN form is on file. Treaty benefits are not claimed on the form and a W-9 form is not on file. Whether the foreign address is in a zero treaty country (as defined on page 77) is not applicable to the determination of tax treatment. Nonresident alien tax will be withheld from the distribution at a rate of 30% of the gross distribution amount. IRS Form 1042-S will be mailed to recipients and transmitted to the IRS to report the activity for the year.

- Documented Account—Scenario #2 (Nonresident Alien or Foreign Estate): A foreign distribution is taken and a valid W-8BEN form is on file. Treaty benefits are claimed on the form and a W-9 form is not on file. There is an SSN or ITIN on file for the account. Whether the foreign address is in a zero treaty country is not applicable to the determination of tax treatment. Nonresident alien tax will be withheld from the distribution at the treaty rate of the gross distribution amount (see the country lists on page 77). IRS Form 1042-S will be mailed to recipients (as noted on page 77) and transmitted to the IRS to report the activity for the year.
- Documented Account—Scenario #3 (U.S. Person): A foreign distribution is taken and a valid W-8BEN form is not on file. Since there is no W-8BEN form on file, the claim of treaty benefits is not applicable to the determination of tax treatment. A W-9 form is on file for the account. Whether there is an SSN on record for the account or if the foreign address is in a zero treaty country is not applicable to the determination of tax treatment. Federal tax will be withheld from the distribution at a minimum rate of 10% of the gross distribution amount. IRS Form 1099-R will be mailed to recipients and transmitted to the IRS to report the activity for the year.

Note: If both documents are on file, then the most recently received valid document will dictate tax treatment. IRS Form W-9 is valid indefinitely except when there is a change in circumstances that requires different tax documentation. W-8BEN forms generally expire on December 31 of the third year following the year the form is signed and dated.

GRID #1: DOCUMENTED ACCOUNT: VALID IRS FORM W-8BEN OR W-9 ON FILE

	IRS W-8BEN ON FILE	TREATY BENEFITS CLAIMED	IRS W-9 ON FILE	SSN	ZERO TREATY COUNTRY	TAX TYPE	REQUIRED MINIMUM WITHHOLDING	IRS TAX FORM
#1	Yes	No	No	N/A	N/A	NRA	30%	1042-S
#2	Yes	Yes	No	Yes ¹	N/A	NRA	Treaty Rate	1042-S
#3	No	N/A	Yes	N/A	N/A	FED	10%	1099-R

¹ An SSN or ITIN is required to claim a reduced treaty rate.

Foreign Distribution Tax Treatment (continued)

Grid #2 details how Pershing handles undocumented accounts. Absent a form, IRS presumption rules [as provided in IRS Regulation Sec. 1.1441-1(b)(3)(iii)(C)] are followed to determine tax treatment.

- Undocumented Account—Scenario #1 (U.S. Person):
 A foreign distribution is taken and either a valid W-8BEN or W-9 form is not on file with Pershing. There is an SSN on record for the account, and the foreign address is in a zero treaty country. Federal tax will be withheld from the distribution at a minimum rate of 10% of the gross distribution amount. IRS Form 1099-R will be mailed to recipients and transmitted to the IRS to report the activity for the year.
- Undocumented Account—Scenario #2 (Nonresident Alien or Foreign Estate): A foreign distribution is taken and either a valid W-8BEN or W-9 form is not on file with Pershing. There is an SSN on record for the account, but the foreign address is not in a zero treaty country. Nonresident alien tax will be withheld from the distribution at a rate of 30% of the gross distribution amount. IRS Form 1042-S will be mailed to recipients (as noted on next page) and transmitted to the IRS to report the activity for the year.
- Undocumented Account—Scenario #3 (Nonresident Alien or Foreign Estate): A foreign distribution is taken and either a valid W-8BEN or W-9 form is not on file with Pershing. There is not an SSN on record for the account. Whether the foreign address is in a zero treaty country or not is immaterial to tax treatment determination. Nonresident alien tax will be withheld from the distribution at a rate of 30% of the gross distribution amount. IRS Form 1042-S will be mailed to recipients (as noted on next page) and transmitted to the IRS to report the activity for the year.

GRID #2: UNDOCUMENTED ACCOUNT: IRS PRESUMPTION RULES

IRS Publication 515 and IRS Form 1042-S

IRS PUBLICATION 515: WITHHOLDING OF TAX ON NONRESIDENT ALIENS AND FOREIGN ENTITIES

IRS Publication 515 contains information regarding withholding of tax on nonresident aliens and foreign entities. More information about IRS Publication 515 can be found at the IRS website via <https://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p515.pdf>. In addition, the IRS makes available a tax treaty table which includes treaty rates for withholding from pension and annuity distributions to nonresident aliens and foreign entities. To view the table, visit the IRS website at <https://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-utl/tax-treaty-table-1.pdf>.

If a country is not noted below, then the nonresident alien rate is generally 30% of the gross distribution amount. To receive the reduced rate, taxpayers must have a certified IRS Form W-8BEN, in which treaty benefits are claimed, on file with Pershing and coded in Pershing's system.

Zero Treaty Countries (0% Nonresident Alien tax):

Ashmore and Cartier Islands, Australia, Austria, Bangladesh, Barbados, Belgium, Bulgaria, China, Christmas Island, Cocos (Keeling) Islands, Coral Sea Island Territory, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Egypt, Estonia, Finland, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, India, Ireland, Jamaica, Japan, Kazakhstan, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Mexico, Morocco, New Zealand, Norfolk Island, Norway, Pakistan, Portugal, Romania, Russia, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, South Korea, Spain, Sri Lanka, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, Trinidad and Tobago, Tunisia, Turkey, Ukraine and Venezuela.

Reduced Treaty Countries (15% Nonresident Alien tax):

Canada, Indonesia and South Africa

U.S. TAX TREATMENT

For purposes of the tax treatment, the United States includes U.S. military bases and U.S. possessions.

U.S. Possessions:

American Samoa, Baker Island, Guam, Howland Island, Jarvis Island, Johnston Atoll, Kingman Reef, Marshall Islands, Micronesia, Midway Islands, Navassa Island, Northern Mariana Island, Palmyra Atoll, Puerto Rico, Trust Territory of the Pacific Island, U.S. Virgin Islands and Wake Island.

IRS FORM 1042-S

IRS Form 1042-S (not Form 1099-R) is sent to retirement account holders to report nonresident alien distributions. These forms will be mailed to recipients by the March 15, 2024, IRS deadline. Of note, the Box 1 Income Code is 15, the gross amount of the distributions will be reported in Box 2, the applicable tax rate will be in Box 3b and the amount of nonresident alien withholding (if any) will be reported in Box 7a. (Refer to page 58 for a sample of IRS Form 1042-S.)

IRS Form 990-T—Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return

IRS Form 990-T—Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return As an IRS-approved nonbank (for third-party retirement account trustees), custodian or servicing agent, Pershing is required to file with the IRS Form 990-T—Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. This may include applicable State Tax Returns to report unrelated business taxable income (UBTI) for tax-deferred accounts, including IRAs, SEPs, Savings Incentive Match Plans for Employees (SIMPLEs), Roth IRAs and Coverdell ESAs that have $1,000 or more of UBTI annually.

UBTI

Unrelated business taxable income is income earned by a tax-exempt entity, such as an IRA, that is not related to the exempt purpose of the tax-exempt entity. The exempt purpose of an IRA is to provide for the retirement of the IRA holder with tax typically deferred in IRAs until funds are distributed from the account. Tax reporting is required each year for tax-deferred accounts invested in limited partnerships that earned $1,000 or more of UBTI.

Types of Tax-Deferred Accounts Impacted

- Traditional and Roth individual retirement accounts (IRAs)
- Simplified employee pension plans (SEPs)
- Savings Incentive Match Plans for Employees (SIMPLEs)
- Coverdell education savings accounts (ESAs)

Types of Investments That Generate UBTI

- Limited partnerships (LPs)—businesses owned by more than one person, with limited liability to the owners for business debt
- Master limited partnerships (MLPs)
- Publicly traded Partnership (PTPs)
- Private Equity Partnerships (PEPs)

Types of Forms Are Used

- IRS Form 990-T—Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return
- IRS Form 8868—Application for Extension of Time to File an Exempt Organization Return
- Applicable state tax returns

Filing Policy

According to the IRS instructions for Form 990-T, custodians of IRAs are required to file Form 990-T on behalf of all IRAs that have a filing obligation. Pershing is required to report this income to the IRS and applicable state taxing authorities by filing a tax return and providing payment on behalf of the account owner their share of the partnership's UBTI.

If an account is invested in a limited partnership that earned $1,000 or more of unrelated business taxable income (UBTI) the owner will be taxed on their share of the partnership's income, regardless of the accounts tax-deferred status.

Note: The UBTI being reported on the K-1 might have been under $1,000, but if there was capital and/or ordinary gain, it was determined that a 990-T must be filed if the inclusion of that amount resulted in UBTI greater than $1,000.

Information Used to Determine UBTI

Limited partnerships will send Schedule K-1s or information to Pershing LLC directly and will report the UBTI information (if applicable).

The below sections are reviewed by our vendor, PwC, to calculate the UBTI amount:

- Box 20V – Unrelated Business Taxable Income—this box indicates the amount of UBTI reported
- Footnotes often indicate any percentages of income reported
- Ordinary Gains

Note: In cases where your client receives Schedule K-1(s) directly from the partnership, please provide them to Pershing as soon as possible via a Service Center request in NetX360 (Global Tax Management > Tax Reporting > UBTI/990T General Inquiry).

Note: Pershing has been tracking net operating losses (NOLs) from the account's partnership investments since 2003. Tax returns will be prepared using the NOL information Pershing has on file. If your tax-deferred account incurred losses prior to 2003, that can be used to offset current-year income, then evidence must be submitted to substantiate the losses. Appropriate evidence of prior-year losses can be found on the prior year's Schedule K-1 forms. Schedule K-1 forms can be obtained from the LPs in which the tax-deferred account is currently or previously invested. Pershing does not guarantee the use of any prior year's losses.

The Importance of Cost Basis Information

In some cases, based on certain dispositions that occurred in the reporting year, for the partnership, the cost basis may be an important factor in determining UBTI. It may affect an account's UBTI tax liability after taking into account other factors that are used to calculate the adjusted cost basis. The IRS views that if there is debt financing being allocated to partners, then the sale of the MLP should be reviewed for UBTI attributable to that sale. In such instances, Pershing will use the cost basis information that is available on our system.

Note: We request that you review and ensure that your clients' cost basis information is complete and accurate on Pershing's system.

Gains Calculation

The calculation for gains is what was received on the conversion or sale, compared to what was paid for the partnership units, reduced by lifetime tax adjustments. The total gain is separated between the capital and ordinary portions. The calculation to determine the amount attributed to UBTI is the partner's share of acquisition indebtedness (portion relating to debt financed property) multiplied by the capital portion of the gain or loss. Ordinary gain is treated as 100% UBTI.

Timing of Form 990T

As long as Pershing receives all required information, including the Schedule K-1 information from the limited partnership(s) in a timely manner, we will have PwC prepare the tax returns, and we will file the returns by the IRS's April filing deadline.

Note: Pershing or PwC may receive the Schedule K-1 information or any additional information necessary to prepare the tax return well after the April tax filing deadline since IRS regulations permit limited partnerships to request extensions of time to distribute K-1s to their limited partners. In such instances, Pershing will file any necessary tax returns by no later than the October filing extension deadline for the prior tax year.

Note: These filings are done via batches and are completed once we have all of the pertinent information, starting April-October 15th. However, it is important to note that interest will begin to accrue on any tax liability after the April filing deadline. The IRS may also assess penalties for late payment of taxes, late filing of tax returns (if an extension has not been requested) and for failure to pay estimated taxes where the tax liability is in excess of $500.

Note: Estimated tax payment penalties and interest may be assessed by the IRS if those quarterly estimated tax payments were not made in sufficient amounts from the tax-deferred account during 2023. This type of penalty applies to you if your 2023 tax due is in excess of $500.00. In these cases, PricewaterhouseCoopers will calculate the estimated tax payment penalty and interest and add it to the tax due on your return.

Client Notification

On behalf of Pershing, PwC will mail a letter to your client explaining the UBTI process and enclosing a copy of the IRS Form 990-T and any applicable state tax return(s), which include a schedule reflecting the name of the limited partnership(s) and the UBTI earned. The letter will advise your client of the intended filing date so that you can work with your client to ensure that there is sufficient cash in the account to cover your total tax liability.

Copies of the IRS Form 990-T will be available to e-Document Suite in NetX360 once it is generated. The letter will be available in Online Documents in NetX360.

Tax Due Payment

If UBTI is earned and taxes are due, Pershing will remit the appropriate federal income tax payment to the IRS or the state income tax payment to the applicable state taxing authority from the tax-deferred account on the payment date, as indicated on the letter.

ITEMS FOR ATTENTION (IFA)—TAXES DUE—UNRELATED BUSINESS TAXABLE INCOME

An IFA, Taxes Due—Unrelated Business Taxable Income, will be created to notify your firm when investor IRAs have tax due. This IFA will be displayed when an IRS Form 990-T, along with a letter regarding Unrelated Business Taxable Income (UBTI), is mailed to investors and a tax payment is required. The tax due will be automatically paid from the IRA on the tax due date if sufficient funds are available. If sufficient funds are not available, we will continue to monitor the account so we can remit the funds to the IRS as soon as they become available. If the tax due is not paid to the IRS timely, penalties and interest will continue to accrue. The IFA will be removed when the tax has been fully paid to the IRS.

If the account is closed after December 31, 2023, or if sufficient funds are not available to pay the tax, we will file the tax return(s) and refer the IRS or state taxing authority to the taxpayer/account holder for collection of tax, interest and penalties. Please ensure that cash is in these accounts to satisfy the tax, penalties and interest due.

Note: Payments made with funds from outside the tax-deferred account are considered contributions to the tax-deferred accounts that may cause the account to have an impermissible excess contribution.

Reports

The UBTI Status Report (IRA984R0) will be available in Report Center via NetX360 for the previous year. This report is updated with accounts for which a Form 990-T was prepared. Accounts will be added to this report as Pershing receives and updates Schedule K-1 information and determines taxes due. We strongly recommend that your firm reviews this report and IFA weekly, as it lists clients who are subject to UBTI filing. In addition, it will help your firm determine if cash is available in the accounts to satisfy any outstanding tax liability.

Fees

Pershing applies a filing fee to the applicable tax-deferred account for each tax return prepared and filed. This fee will be charged to the client's account, whether there is tax due or not.

Additional Information

Should you require additional information regarding these tax returns, please refer to the Schedule K-1 issued by the limited partnership(s) in which you were invested, the IRS Instructions to IRS Form 990-T or the applicable State Tax Form instructions. The instructions can be found on the IRS website, irs.gov, or the applicable state tax authority website, as appropriate.

Any 990T/UBTI inquiries can be sent via a Service Center request in NetX360 (Global Tax Management > Tax Reporting > UBTI/990T General Inquiry).

Frequently Asked Questions

Required Minimum Distributions (RMDs) and IRS Forms 1099-R, 1099-Q, 5498 and 5498-ESA

Q. Am I required to attach a copy of IRS Form 1099-R to my tax return?

A. It depends. Copy B of IRS Form 1099-R must be attached to your income tax return only if federal taxes were withheld from distributions during the year. The federal tax amount is reflected in Box 4 of the form.

Q. I received a distribution of $10,000 from my Pershing IRA in 2023. The funds were used to purchase a first-time home, which exempts the amount from the early distribution penalty. Box 7 of IRS Form 1099-R reflects Code 1. When I contacted Pershing for a correction, I was informed that Pershing reported the transaction properly and I should claim the exemption on my income tax return. Is this true?

A. Yes. The IRS requires Pershing to use an exception code, such as Code 2, but only in instances when we know that an exception to the 10% penalty applies. For distributions such as medical expenses, first-time home purchases or qualified higher education expenses, Pershing uses Code 1 if you are under the age of 59½ when the distribution occurs. You may claim the exception by filing IRS Form 5329 along with your tax return.

Q. I took a distribution from my IRA and made a rollover contribution of the amount to my IRA within 60 days. Will I receive an IRS Form 1099-R for the distribution?

A. Yes. The IRS requires that Pershing issue IRS Form 1099-R for all distributions that occur from the retirement account, including those that are rolled over in a timely manner. You will receive IRS Form 5498 for the rollover to offset IRS Form 1099-R.

Q. I made an excess IRA contribution in July 2022 and removed the excess amount in January 2023 before the tax filing deadline. Will I receive IRS Form 1099-R or IRS Form 5498 for the distribution or contribution?

A. The IRS requires all IRA distributions to be reported on IRS Form 1099-R, including return of excess contributions. IRS Form 1099-R will be issued for 2023, the year in which the distribution occurs.

Pershing will indicate Code P in Box 7 of IRS Form 1099-R to let the IRS know that the distribution is attributable to an excess contribution made for 2022. If the excess contribution was attributable to 2023 and distributed in 2023, then IRS Form 1099-R would have been issued for 2023 and the code in Box 7 would be Code 8. The IRS also requires all IRA contributions to be reported on IRS Form 5498, even if a contribution is later removed.

Q. I established and funded a Traditional IRA in January 2023 and revoked the IRA seven days after signing the Adoption Agreement. I still received an IRS Form 1099-R for the amount returned. Is this correct?

A. According to the IRS instructions for filing IRS Form 1099-R and IRS Form 5498, IRA custodians must report revoked contributions on IRS Form 1099-R. The distributed amount is reported as a return of excess contribution. You will also receive IRS Form 5498 for the contribution amount.

Q. Am I required to attach a copy of IRS Form 5498 or Form 5498-ESA to my tax return?

A. No. The IRS does not require you to attach these forms to your tax return. You should retain the forms.

Q. Why does Pershing send IRS Form 5498 and IRS Form 5498-ESA after the tax filing date?

A. The IRS deadline for contributing to an IRA is April 15 of the following tax year. Since the filing requirements allow contributions to be made until April 15, including those that are mailed by April 15, the forms are prepared and mailed after the tax filing date.

Q. I did not receive an IRS Form 5498. I was informed that even though a contribution for 2023 was not made, I should receive IRS Form 5498. Is this correct?

A. No. For IRAs that have no other reporting activity for 2023, such as a contribution, conversion or recharacterization, Pershing is not required to issue IRS Form 5498. We must report, however, the fair market value of these IRAs. This information appears on your December 2023 account statement. If there are any changes to the fair market value, the updated amount and a note indicating that the amount has been updated will be included in the monthly statement for the month in which the adjustment is made.

Q. I deposited a 2023 contribution to a SEP IRA in January 2024. This amount, however, was not included on my 2023 IRS Form 5498. Is this correct?

A. Yes. The IRS requires Pershing to report SEP IRA and SIMPLE IRA contributions, including salary reduction and deferral contributions, for the calendar year that we receive the contribution, regardless of the tax year to which the employer might be contributing. You should report contributions based on the tax year, not the calendar year. For contributions that are clearly marked “previous year,” Pershing will add the trailer “contribution received current year for previous year” to the transaction.

Q. If I revoke my 2023 IRA contribution in a timely manner, will I still receive IRS Form 5498?

A. Yes. Any reportable contributions made for 2023, even if the contribution is revoked before December 31, 2023, must be reported on IRS Form 5498.

Q. What is an RMD?

A. Under federal regulations, owners of Traditional IRAs, SEP IRAs, SIMPLE IRAs, qualified plans and 403(b) accounts are required to distribute a certain amount from the retirement account each year beginning with the year in which the taxpayer reached age 73.¹ This amount is referred to as a required minimum distribution, or RMD. Generally, the RMD for a year is determined by dividing the previous year-end fair market value by the retirement account owner's life expectancy factor, which may be obtained by using the life expectancy tables in IRS Publication 590. The RMD amount must be distributed by December 31 of each year. An exception applies the year in which the taxpayer reaches age 73, where you are allowed to defer the RMD for that year until April 1 of the following year.

Q. What happens if I fail to withdraw the RMD amount?

A. If you fail to withdraw the RMD amount by the applicable deadline, you will owe the IRS an excise tax of 25% and 10%, if corrected in a timely manner, of the shortfall, as per the SECURE 2.0 Act. This is referred to as an excess accumulation tax.

Q. Will Pershing be able to process and report the withdrawal as a 2023 transaction if the participant submitted the withdrawal request to the firm in 2023, but the request was not forwarded to Pershing until 2024?

A. No. To be compliant with IRS reporting requirements, distribution requests processed after December 31, 2023, cannot be reported for 2023. Requests to report transactions processed after December 31, 2023, for tax year 2023 will not be honored.

Q. Is there any provision for waiving the penalty?

A. Yes. If you feel that there is a reasonable excuse for failing to satisfy the RMD in a timely manner, you may ask the IRS to waive the excess accumulation tax. According to the instructions provided by the IRS in IRS Publication 590, you must take the following steps when the waiver is being requested:

- Withdraw the RMD amount
- File IRS Form 5329 with your Form 1040 (tax return)
- Pay any tax owed on the excess accumulation
- Attach a letter of explanation

If the IRS approves the request, it will refund the excess accumulation taxes paid.

Note:

- Pershing will report the distribution for the year it is processed.
- You are responsible for paying the excise tax to the IRS when you file IRS Form 5329.
- If you elect to pay the excise tax from your retirement account, it will be considered a distribution and will be reported in the year it is processed.

Q. If you already filed your IRS Form 1040 for the year, can you still file IRS Form 5329?

A. You should contact your tax professional for assistance if you already filed your IRS Form 1040 for the year and did not include IRS Form 5329.

Q. Where can I obtain IRS Form 5329?

A. IRS Form 5329 and the instructions are available online at irs.gov/form5329.

Q. Who should I contact for assistance with completing IRS Form 5329?

A. You should contact a tax professional for assistance with completing IRS Form 5329. You may also refer to IRS Publication 910, Guide to Free Tax Services, for information on free tax services offered by the IRS.

¹ Participants may be able to defer beginning the RMD until April 1 of the year after the year the individual retires from service with the employer that sponsored the plan. Participants should refer to their plan administrator or the plan document for the rules that apply to the plan.
